Nixon Asks Congress for Sweeping Postal Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a government -owned, self-sustaining service removed from Cabinet status.

"Traditions die hard and traditional institutions are difficult to abandon," Nixon declared. "But tradition is no substitute for performance, and if our postal system is to meet the expanding needs of the 1970s, we must act now."

The President's proposal was largely based on recommendations submitted by Frederick R. Kappel, head of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Commission on Postal Organization.

Nixon said his reform, besides removing the post office from the Cabinet, calls for several sweeping changes including:

—Creation of an independent postal service wholly owned by the federal government and administered by a nine-member board of directors.

—New and extensive collective bargaining rights for postal employes.

—Bond financing for major capital improvements, similar to the funding arrangement now held by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

—Establishment of a commission of experts to propose changes in mail classifications and postage rates, subject to review by the seven presidentially appointed members of the nine man board.

Much of what the President recommended was leaked by congressional sources last week.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount held a White House briefing today on the plans.

President Nixon and Blount appeared together before reporters at the briefing and both made comments on the Nixon message to Congress.

Nixon said all nine directors would be chosen "without regard to political affiliation."

Seven members including the chairman, would be appointed by the President, and would require Senate confirmation. These seven would then select "a full time chief executive officer who will join with the seven others to select a full time executive who will also serve on the board," Nixon said.

The President said the reform proposal has been under consideration for the past several weeks, and he described it as "the most significant reform bill" that will be sent Congress under his administration."

He said such a reorganization is "an urgent national requirement" and the only way to forestall either massive postal deficits or huge rate increases.

The President emphasized that the reforms could be put into effect without a reduction in the postal system's 750,000 employes.

Shots Fired at Cairo Firemen

CAIRO, Ill. AP - City and state patrolled the streets of Cairo after firemen were shot at while responding to two firebombings.

A fire destroyed the Tri-County Health Center, located across the street from Pyramid Courts, a Negro housing development, and heavily damaged an interior decorator's shop.

No injuries or arrests were reported.

Earlier Monday, between 75 and 100 shots were fired at the police station.

President Chung Hee Park and his wife greeted Thieu, his wife and their 28 companions, including four cabinet members.

The South Vietnamese leader said in an arrival statement that he was looking forward to "reaffirming our common goals, and to charting the course of actions we will adopt for the security and the peace of our region."

Richardson Resigns As Mayor

PORTAGEVILLE — Mayor Barry Richardson, at a special meeting of the City Council last night, submitted his resignation. Elected to the second term as mayor in April, he was also appointed to the state committee of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin in April.

In making his announcement, Richardson said he felt he could serve more people in the position of committeeman on the state A.S.C.S. He said it was a hard decision to make because he was elected mayor by a 10 to 1 majority.

Earl Walker, ward two alderman, was named acting mayor to replace Richardson. A special election will be held to fill the vacancy. Walker said he will be a candidate in the election. Date of the election will be set at the next regular council meeting, which will be held Monday.

Deputy Nabs Suspected Murderer

A suspected murderer was apprehended yesterday in Sikeston by part-time Scott County Deputy Sheriff Ted Echols.

Sheriff John Dennis praised the deputy's work that resulted in the arrest of Sylvester Jackson, 23, St. Louis. Echols arrested Jackson at a Sikeston motel, where he was staying with friends. The arrest was made about 2 p.m.

Sheriff Dennis said his department was contacted last week by police in St. Louis, who thought Jackson was in the Sikeston area. Jackson, who offered no resistance when arrested, is suspected of killing a man by shooting him four times in the back. St. Louis police transported Jackson back to that city yesterday afternoon.

"Echols conducted a find investigation. He should be commended for his good work," the sheriff said.

Waste Cited In Military Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military is pouring untold billions of dollars into defense contractors' pockets for weapons that often don't work, a bipartisan group of senators and representatives said today.

"The federal government has not been adequately controlling military spending," a joint economic subcommittee concluded. "As a result, substantial unnecessary funds have been spent for the acquisition of weapons systems and other military hardware."

The subcommittee's report followed hearings last November and January into the defense procurement program that totaled $44 billion in fiscal 1968—25 per cent of the federal budget.

"The wasteful, inefficient practices uncovered in the course of the hearings raise basic questions concerning the Defense Department's management of its own affairs," the report said. "It also makes us skeptical concerning the effectiveness and care with which the defense budget is scrutinized by pertinent agencies outside of the Pentagon."

"In the past literally billions of dollars have been wasted on weapons systems that have had to be canceled because they did not work," the subcommittee said. "Other systems have performed far below contract specifications."

"The result of the absence of effective cost controls, coupled with a number of policies and practices discussed in this report, has resulted in a vast subsidy for the defense industry, particularly the larger contractors," the report said.

Pentagon officials agree with much of the report. But they pointed out the new administration under Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has started to overhaul procedures for buying major weapons systems.

Urgent Need of Industrial Park Cited During Sikeston Seminar

IT WAS APPARENT LAST NIGHT that only inspiration was required to secure new industry, then Sikeston would probably land a dozen or more new companies this year. Pictured are, from left, Jack Hill, State Commerce Department; Bud Davis, chairman of Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee; James Beaird, chamber president, and Howard Thomas, State Commerce Department.

BY DAN D. WHITTLE
CITY EDITOR

A shortage of industrial sites and prohibitive land costs were cited last night as major problems regarding new industry in Sikeston.

The two problems surfaced in an Industrial Seminar held at Security National Bank by the State Division of Commerce and Industrial Development. Two division representatives, Howard Thomas and Jack Hill, both told the 30 men in attendance that Sikeston and Southeast Missouri is hurling toward "bigger times" industrially speaking. They warned, however, that an industrial park is needed in Sikeston with land available at about $1500 per acre.

"You are going to see," Thomas said, "this area grow faster that it has even in recent years. The Southeast Missouri region is hot for industrial development."

Thomas also informed the businessmen that about 40 per cent of prospective industries inquire about Semo as a possible location.

Thomas also disclosed that Sikeston is "a favorite" with a machine in Jefferson City. When an industry is considering locating in Missouri, initial contact is made with the industrial division. The companies tell their needs and the needs are then fed into a computer. Thomas said the computer suggested Sikeston as a possibility 13 times in 1967, eight times in 1968 and 11 times in 1969 to date.

Thomas said one the "best attributes" Sikeston has is the trade school.

"Believe me, industries look at that school out there. And the school is one of the best in the state," Thomas said. He also cited Sikeston's location at the intersection of two interstate highways as being a major benefit in the city's fight to land new companies.

Sikeston's Chamber of Commerce has been doing extensive work in an attempt to secure land to be used as industrial sites. Bud Davis, chairman of the chamber Industrial Committee, expounded on prohibitive costs.

"Industry is not going to pay $3500 per acre. Sikeston doesn't mean that much to them," Davis said. He added that the city is "whipped" until suitable sites are established at reasonable costs.

Land costs of other area cities were disclosed during the meeting. Sikeston was the highest with $3500 per acre being the cheapest land available for industrial development.

Surrounding cities and costs are Poplar Bluff, $1500 per acre; Dexter, $100; Kennett, $2000; Charleston, $1500 and Cape Girardeau, $2000.

James M. Beaird, chamber president, promised in an opening address that "We are going to do something of significance industrial wise in Sikeston this year." Beaird said that he has been somewhat "enthused" over the interest taken by the city government in the industry campaign and by the men who comprise the Chamber of Commerce.

Hill and Thomas said a city needs a package plan to present to prospective industries that answers all questions, such as land costs, taxes, completion dates, etc.

A package is now being drawn up by the Chamber's Industrial Committee. A brochure containing all pertinent information is expected to be completed within the next month.

Beaird praised Davis and his committee for their "diligent" work in preparing the package plan.

The meeting was opened by Sam Harbin, who was representing the City Council. Harbin said the city has unlimited industrial potential. "I believe we have the man necessary to help our community to reach out and secure new industry."

Ray Loses Bid For New Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray was returned to his maximum-security prison cell after losing a bid for a new trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"This hearing was only the beginning," said Richard J. Ryan of Memphis, one of Ray's three new lawyers. Ryan said he will take the case to the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals.

Judge Arthur C. Faquin Jr. of Criminal Court in Memphis held Monday that Ray waived any right of appeal when he entered a guilty plea March 10 in the shooting of King.

"It is the opinion of this court that the guilty plea entered was properly ... knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily entered," Faquin said in a written order. "Judge Battle had ample evidence in finding that the defendant was fully advised and has waived, intelligently and understandingly, his rights to a motion for a new trial."

Judge W. Preston Battle died three weeks after accepting Ray's plea of guilty in exchange for a 99-year prison sentence.

Ray, 41, sought a new trial on grounds he was coerced by his former lawyers into pleading guilty. He charged that his old lawyers were more interested in writing and selling stories about the death of King than in seeing he received a fair trial.

Nixon Asks Congress for Sweeping Postal Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a government-owned, self-sustaining service removed from Cabinet status.

"Traditions die hard and traditional institutions are difficult to abandon," Nixon declared. "But tradition is no substitute for performance, and if our postal system is to meet the expanding needs of the 1970s, we must act now."

The President's proposal was largely based on recommendations submitted by Frederick R. Kappel, head of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Commission on Postal Organization.

Nixon said his reform, besides removing the post office from the Cabinet, calls for several sweeping changes including:

—Creation of an independent postal service wholly owned by the federal government and administered by a nine-member board of directors.

—New and extensive collective bargaining rights for postal employes.

—Bond financing for major capital improvements, similar to the funding arrangement now held by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

—Establishment of a commission of experts to propose changes in mail classifications and postage rates, subject to review by the seven presidentially appointed members of the nine man board.

Much of what the President recommended was leaked by congressional sources last week.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount held a White House briefing today on the plans.

President Nixon and Blount appeared together before reporters at the briefing and both made comments on the Nixon message to Congress.

Nixon said all nine directors would be chosen "without regard to political affiliation."

Seven members including the chairman, would be appointed by the President, and would require Senate confirmation. These seven would then select "a full time chief executive officer who will join with the seven others to select a full time executive who will also serve on the board," Nixon said.

The President said the reform proposal has been under consideration for the past several weeks, and he described it as "the most significant reform bill" that will be sent Congress under his administration."

He said such a reorganization is "an urgent national requirement" and the only way to forestall either massive postal deficits or huge rate increases.

The President emphasized that the reforms could be put into effect without a reduction in the postal system's 750,000 employes.

Richardson Resigns As Mayor

PORTAGEVILLE — Mayor Barry Richardson, at a special meeting of the City Council last night, submitted his resignation. Elected to the second term as mayor in April, he was also appointed to the state committee of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin in April.

In making his announcement, Richardson said he felt he could serve more people in the position of committeeman on the state A.S.C.S. He said it was a hard decision to make because he was elected mayor by a 10 to 1 majority.

Earl Walker, ward two alderman, was named acting mayor to replace Richardson. A special election will be held to fill the vacancy. Walker said he will be a candidate in the election. Date of the election will be set at the next regular council meeting, which will be held Monday.

Deputy Nabs Suspected Murderer

A suspected murderer was apprehended yesterday in Sikeston by part-time Scott County Deputy Sheriff Ted Echols.

Sheriff John Dennis praised the deputy's work that resulted in the arrest of Sylvester Jackson, 23, St. Louis. Echols arrested Jackson at a Sikeston motel, where he was staying with friends. The arrest was made about 2 p.m.

Sheriff Dennis said his department was contacted last week by police in St. Louis, who thought Jackson was in the Sikeston area. Jackson, who offered no resistance when arrested, is suspected of killing a man by shooting him four times in the back. St. Louis police transported Jackson back to that city yesterday afternoon.

"Echols conducted a find investigation. He should be commended for his good work," the sheriff said.

Waste Cited In Military Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military is pouring untold billions of dollars into defense contractors' pockets for weapons that often don't work, a bipartisan group of senators and representatives said today.

"The federal government has not been adequately controlling military spending," a joint economic subcommittee concluded. "As a result, substantial unnecessary funds have been spent for the acquisition of weapons systems and other military hardware."

The subcommittee's report followed hearings last November and January into the defense procurement program that totaled $44 billion in fiscal 1968—25 per cent of the federal budget.

"The wasteful, inefficient practices uncovered in the course of the hearings raise basic questions concerning the Defense Department's management of its own affairs," the report said. "It also makes us skeptical concerning the effectiveness and care with which the defense budget is scrutinized by pertinent agencies outside of the Pentagon."

"In the past literally billions of dollars have been wasted on weapons systems that have had to be canceled because they did not work," the subcommittee said. "Other systems have performed far below contract specifications."

"The result of the absence of effective cost controls, coupled with a number of policies and practices discussed in this report, has resulted in a vast subsidy for the defense industry, particularly the larger contractors," the report said.

Pentagon officials agree with much of the report. But they pointed out the new administration under Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has started to overhaul procedures for buying major weapons systems.

Urgent Need of Industrial Park Cited During Sikeston Seminar

IT WAS APPARENT LAST NIGHT that only inspiration was required to secure new industry, then Sikeston would probably land a dozen or more new companies this year. Pictured are, from left, Jack Hill, State Commerce Department; Bud Davis, chairman of Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee; James Beaird, chamber president, and Howard Thomas, State Commerce Department.

BY DAN D. WHITTLE
CITY EDITOR

A shortage of industrial sites and prohibitive land costs were cited last night as major problems regarding new industry in Sikeston.

The two problems surfaced in an Industrial Seminar held at Security National Bank by the State Division of Commerce and Industrial Development. Two division representatives, Howard Thomas and Jack Hill, both told the 30 men in attendance that Sikeston and Southeast Missouri is hurling toward "bigger times" industrially speaking. They warned, however, that an industrial park is needed in Sikeston with land available at about $1500 per acre.

"You are going to see," Thomas said, "this area grow faster that it has even in recent years. The Southeast Missouri region is hot for industrial development."

Thomas also informed the businessmen that about 40 per cent of prospective industries inquire about Semo as a possible location.

Thomas also disclosed that Sikeston is "a favorite" with a machine in Jefferson City. When an industry is considering locating in Missouri, initial contact is made with the industrial division. The companies tell their needs and the needs are then fed into a computer. Thomas said the computer suggested Sikeston as a possibility 13 times in 1967, eight times in 1968 and 11 times in 1969 to date.

Thomas said one the "best attributes" Sikeston has is the trade school.

"Believe me, industries look at that school out there. And the school is one of the best in the state," Thomas said. He also cited Sikeston's location at the intersection of two interstate highways as being a major benefit in the city's fight to land new companies.

Sikeston's Chamber of Commerce has been doing extensive work in an attempt to secure land to be used as industrial sites. Bud Davis, chairman of the chamber Industrial Committee, expounded on prohibitive costs.

"Industry is not going to pay $3500 per acre. Sikeston doesn't mean that much to them," Davis said. He added that the city is "whipped" until suitable sites are established at reasonable costs.

Land costs of other area cities were disclosed during the meeting. Sikeston was the highest with $3500 per acre being the cheapest land available for industrial development.

Surrounding cities and costs are Poplar Bluff, $1500 per acre; Dexter, $100; Kennett, $2000; Charleston, $1500 and Cape Girardeau, $2000.

James M. Beaird, chamber president, promised in an opening address that "We are going to do something of significance industrial wise in Sikeston this year." Beaird said that he has been somewhat "enthused" over the interest taken by the city government in the industry campaign and by the men who comprise the Chamber of Commerce.

Hill and Thomas said a city needs a package plan to present to prospective industries that answers all questions, such as land costs, taxes, completion dates, etc.

A package is now being drawn up by the Chamber's Industrial Committee. A brochure containing all pertinent information is expected to be completed within the next month.

Beaird praised Davis and his committee for their "diligent" work in preparing the package plan.

The meeting was opened by Sam Harbin, who was representing the City Council. Harbin said the city has unlimited industrial potential. "I believe we have the man necessary to help our community to reach out and secure new industry."

Five Injured In Highway Accidents

Three persons were injured, when a 1964 Mercury went out of control Monday night at 9:50 p.m. on route WW at the north edge of the Campbell city limits.

The patrol said Thorald Myers, 55, Campbell, was driving at an excessive speed, when he lost control, the car left the road and turned over three times.

The driver had cuts and bruises on the head.

Two passengers, Larry Ray Myers, 10, had cuts on his head, and David Webb, 8, received a fractured jaw and knee.

The driver and young Myers were taken to Doctors hospital in Poplar Bluff, and young Webb, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

A two truck collision in Perry county Monday at 11:30 a.m. on route H, one mile east of route H and M, sent two persons to the Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

A 1951 Chevrolet truck driven by John Christenson, 52, Perryville, drove off of a country road into the path of a 1969 International truck, driven by Zeland Beck, 57, Herrin, Ill.

Christenson received a head injury and cuts on his face, while Beck had a possible neck injury.

Ray Loses Bid For New Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray was returned to his maximum-security prison cell after losing a bid for a new trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"This hearing was only the beginning," said Richard J. Ryan of Memphis, one of Ray's three new lawyers. Ryan said he will take the case to the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals.

Judge Arthur C. Faquin Jr. of Criminal Court in Memphis held Monday that Ray waived any right of appeal when he entered a guilty plea March 10 in the shooting of King.

"It is the opinion of this court that the guilty plea entered was properly ... knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily entered," Faquin said in a written order. "Judge Battle had ample evidence in finding that the defendant was fully advised and has waived, intelligently and understandingly, his rights to a motion for a new trial."

Judge W. Preston Battle died three weeks after accepting Ray's plea of guilty in exchange for a 99-year prison sentence.

Ray, 41, sought a new trial on grounds he was coerced by his former lawyers into pleading guilty. He charged that his old lawyers were more interested in writing and selling stories about the death of King than in seeing he received a fair trial.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
MEMORIAL DAY 1968

Memorial Day deservedly is a hallowed day, not a holiday in the carnival sense.

Though the day has come to be devoted to family picnics and other kinds of recreation, it properly should begin with rememberance and appreciation of the dead in all our wars.

Memorial Day, or Decoration Day as some prefer to call it, had a tender beginning.

A Virginia woman, Cassandra Moncure, is credited with starting the custom among Southern ladies of decorating the graves of soldiers, both Confederate and Union. Their reason for choosing May 30 as the day to pay this lovely tribute is not certain.

In 1868, just 10 years ago today, Maj. Gen. John T. Logan, commander - in - chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, the organization of Union veterans, proclaimed May 30 as Memorial Day.

So it is that the day has been observed in most of the nation since, although some of the Southern states have other days set aside.

Memorial Day 1969 has special, even awesome meaning because of the mounting number of American war dead in Vietnam.

In the last two weeks, more than 1000 valiant United States fighting men have been killed, while so-called "peace talks" make no progress in Paris.

Since 1961, there have been 23,500 Americans killed in combat and 143,676 wounded. Another 3865 non-combat deaths are attributable to the war.

The casualty tolls are past those of the Korean War, another undeclared conflict in which the United States pursued a fatalistic, no-win policy.

The Americans fighting in Vietnam are doing their duty.

Morale of the men in action is generally good, considering the doubtful strategy employed. The troops are the antithesis of the scraggly peaceniks who apparently are too cowardly to serve their country, and capable only of causing disturbances at home, to their lasting dishonor.

The United States has a debt to the brave men fighting and dying in Vietnam.

The debt can be paid only by ending the war with honor.

And there has not yet been discovered a better way to end a war than in victory.

Allies emphasize 40-to-1 kill rates" which is one hell of a lot of consolation to the parents, wives and children of the one American.

We don't need to withdraw, just clobber them, as long as we don't they will continue to win.

The 40 that North Vietnam lose just means more food for the ones that are left.

Why don't we clobber them?

ABOUT THAT RUSSIAN DRESS. . .

That cotton dress which sells for $5.55 in Leningrad brings up a staggering fact about the Soviet Union: It is a nation oppressed by Communist economics.

Miss Sargent said, that the average pay of a Russian industrial worker is $83 a month (based on a 6-day week).

Poor Ivan. He has to work almost 1½ days to buy his wife that dress.

In the United States, a secretary who makes $100 a week could buy a better cotton dress for $3.98 - and would have to work for it for 1½ hours.

That is if you could get her to buy a $3.98 dress in the first place.

WHAT STIRS WITHIN LIBERALISM'S TENT?

What stirs within the tent of doctrinaire liberalism?

One asks this after considering certain surprising statements made lately by the tentmakers.

Perhaps it is merely the approaching election season which motivates liberals to make sounds like conservatives. Consider statements made by Pat Moynihan, the urban expert. Behold the Richard Goodwin who bubbles like Goldwater.

First, there's Moynihan, who shook the rafters of liberalism when he addressed the national board of the super liberal Americans for Democratic Action:

"An especial problem of American liberals" is Viet Nam and the urban riots "because more than anyone else it is they who have been in office, in power at the time of, and in large measure presided over the onset of both."

On the Viet Nam War:

"(it) was thought up and is being managed by the men John F. Kennedy brought to Washington."

On the riots:

"(the cities) erupted in the aftermath of one of the most extraordinary periods of liberal electoral victories that we have ever experienced. Who are we, then, to the pointing fingers?"

On liberals who:

"Must divest themselves of the notion that the nation, especially the cities, can be run from Washington (which) is good at collecting revenues and rather bad at disbursing services . . . "

The foregoing is candid, but might take second place to some statements by Richard Goodwin, former law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter and idea man for President Kennedy:

"One need only look at the fantastic labyrinth of welfare programs, the monstrous incapacities of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare . . . as well as the foreseeable futilities of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development and Transportation, to realize that something is wrong with the old approach.

"Antipoverty and job retaining programs should be increasingly handed over to the community groups instead of being drawn, as they now are, closer to the federal government. Aid to education might well be administered to a far larger degree by local boards.

"Sharing in the general euphoria of power, the nine justices of the Supreme Court make major political decisions, unresponsive to the democratic process, in secret meetings on Friday afternoons. Both the number and the scope of these decisions steadily mount."

Here, two respected liberals attack the sanctity of Washington's long-held prerogatives, point out the bureaucratic ratholes through which hard-earned dollars are poured and - shock of shocks - suggest that local control might have some merit after all.

But alas, these are words which come easily and which might not be again uttered within the ranks until this time in 1971.

And anybody who suggests that the timing might coincide with another upcoming presidential election is an extremist.

EQUAL TIME FOR COMMUNISTS

Imagine it is the year 1943. Americans are fighting the Nazi legions in an effort to save the world from Hitler and his National Socialism.

As this is occurring and American men are dying in the field, a New York radio station receives a letter from the Federal Communications Commission ordering the station to give equal time to the Brown Shirts, a Nazi group, because the station alleged that the Brown Shirts is a fascist group controlled by American Nazis.

The aftermath of such an order would be that the FCC members responsible for the order would have to leave town rather hurriedly. Likely, the FCC building would be wrecked by outraged Americans.

This imagined situation just couldn't occur, but something mighty like it has. The situation and circumstances are almost the same: Americans are fighting Socialists/ Communists in Viet Nam and Korea, are watching their activities in Castro's Caribbean bastion, and have thousands of servicemen guarding Europe from Communist aggression.

And Station WHN of New York City was ordered Feb. 2, 1968, to give a Communist youth front, the W.E.B. DuBois Club, equal time because the station said the DuBois Club "is Marxist," "Red," "Founded . . . and controlled by American Communists" and "foremost among the activities currently directed against our young people."

The only difference between the imagined and real situation is that there was no such thing as the Fairness Doctrine back in 1943. The Fairness Doctrine requires that equal broadcast time for rebuttal be given by stations to any person or group subject to personal attack by broadcast stations.

This is a good doctrine, one that springs from the American sense of fair play. However, it can benefit anyone dedicated to destruction of everything from American fair play to American freedom. Unfortunately, the ruling is a product of the death wish philosophy of those in high places who won't prosecute traitors or who hand down edicts which say that Communists ought to be treated like anybody else, when the facts are quite plain that Communists are not like anybody else. Communist teachers can't be fired because of their anti-American ideology; Communist seamen can't be kept out of the Merchant Marine; Communist workers can't be denied employment in defense plants: all of which prove that the death wish philosophy has taken its form and appears to be guiding the Republic.

The FCC ruling is based on the definition of controversy. WHN says it is incontrovertible that the DuBois Club is a Communist front, that this is truth and fact, and therefore no equal time is called for. Backing the station have been comments on the Communist makeup of the DuBois Clubs by J. Edgar Hoover, the Attorney General and the Communists themselves.

But the FCC disagrees in a classic model of say-nothing bureaucratese. See Broadcast Action italic portion.

If this decision is allowed to stand and thus set a precedent, then the FCC will have materially aided the Communist cause in this country. It will mean that no station can give the truth about Communists and communism without the threat of having to broadcast Communist lies.

Communists in the schools, on merchant ships, in the defense plants and, now, on the air with impunity.

Why do we protect and nurture Communists at home and fight them in Viet Nam and Korea?

The Missouri Highway Patrol today urged drivers to use extreme caution over the Memorial Day weekend to hold the holiday traffic death toll in check.

Colonel E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, the Patrol Superintendent, noted that 20 persons were killed on Missouri streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend last year. Ninety-four persons have died in traffic accidents over this holiday period in the past five years.

"Most highways will be heavily traveled over the Memorial Day holiday weekend, Hockaday noted. "An extra good job of driving will be necessary on the part of all motorists. Anticipate the worst from other drivers and adjust your driving accordingly. Be patient in heavy traffic and avoid excessive speed and imprudent passing."

Last year, Memorial Day came on a Thursday. Eight persons were killed on that day in Missouri traffic accidents. Four lost their lives on Friday, three on Saturday and five were killed on Sunday.

"The first and last hours of the holiday weekend are particularly dangerous for motorists," Hockaday stated. "Travelers are in a hurry to reach their particular holiday destination. Later, they are often just as much in a rush to get back home. When you take to the road this Memorial Day weekend, take your time. Don't mar your holiday by being involved in a traffic accident."

The official traffic death count for the Memorial Day holiday weekend begins at 6 p.m., Thursday, May 29 and ends at midnight, Sunday, June 1.

Perhaps the oldest joke in the 20th-century America is the woman driver put-on, according to The Travelers Insurance Companies annual booklet on highway accident statistics.

Of the 68,000 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1968, only 10,000 were women.

However, a Travelers spokesman notes that "the big gun in this battle of the sexes is the canard that women are emotionally incapable of handling a car in an emergency. Or than an ignorance of anything mechanical makes it impossible for them to understand how to drive safely.

"Some women do get rattled easily," the spokesman conceeds. "Some women are bewildered by nuts and bolts. And precisely the same can be said for some men," he added.

Statistics in the booklet prove many reasons why cars crash: speed too fast for conditions; driving on the wrong side of the road; did not have the right of way; cutting into a line of traffic; passing on curve or hill; passing on wrong side; failure to signal and improper signaling; reckless driving, etc. Sex of the drive is not a proven reason.

"The fact is," the spokesman said, "there are many more male drivers who drive many more miles than the average female. Until we have figures indicating the number of miles driven by male vs. female, the women-driver joke will remain no more than a put-on."

PLANNED POVERTY

When Will Rogers, who was proud of his Indian blood, was asked by a haughty dowager whether his ancestors came over the Mayflower, he replied: "They met the boat."

Since Rogers uttered those words the plight of his people has been deteriorating steadily and rapidly. However, we don't recall that any of our most lachrymose pundits have shed any tears for them. Of course, there are only about 300,000 Indian votes in the national elections, and that many explain ithe oversight.

The Association on American Indian Affairs in New York City reports the following statistical averages for our Indian population: Schooling, 5 years; life span, 42 years; family income, $1,500; unemployment, 45 per cent. Tom Tiede, an NEA newsman, recently described the Navajo Reservation as the nation's largest ghetto: 25,000 square miles of privation; 18 million acres of despair; 100,000 faces of poverty; a median income for a family of five of $580 a year.

"It is a sad fact that this country's greatest landowners have become the nation's smallest minority, the poorest and least educated." With those words, Wendell Chine welcomed delegates from all over the country to the National Congress of American Indians in Portland, Oregon, last October. A Mescalero Apache, Chine called for legislation to improve Indian education, employment, fishing rights, hunting rights, housing and sanitation for the Indians.

It seems not to have come to the attention of the Supreme Court that the Interior Department is spending millions each year to build segregated schools for the Indians, while tons of money are being spent in metropolitan areas to bus children to integrated schools. But the schooling program hasn't been what you'd call a model of success. Only three of ten Navajo adults can read or write English.

Secretary of the Interior, Stewart L. Udall, testified recently that the American Indians comprise "the most poverty stricken group in this country." He was taking for more money for his department.

Unhappily, this whole sorrowful tale is an accounting of the stewardship of the planners in Washington over the span of almost a century, and as good a reason as we can think of for resistant Big Brotherism every waking moment of our lives.

Brain-Storm Your Job

Now comes a British psychologist with a proposal he thinks might do more than the long lunch hour in making the job bearable.

Dr. George Gall says that what is needed in today's massive aggregations of employers and employed, and for housewives for that matter, are "think breaks," 10 minutes away from work when everybody would do nothing (sneaking a cigarette or an extra cup of coffee would defeat the purpose, he says) but ponder their jobs, how to improve and think positively about them.

The breaks would, in effect, be time-out periods from the too-fast pace of modern life, enabling people to contemplate that life and, theoretically at least, therefore get more out of it.

There is a possible drawback. The way our increasingly beehivelike society has been going, if people really stopped to think about their jobs, would they ever go back to them?

27½% DEPLETION

There is enough bad government that I prefer devoting my time to trying to achieve good government, and I apologize for dealing with a subject where I have a selfish interest. But the truth about depletion allowance needs to be understood.

Depletion allowance has long been "misinterpreted" to the public by those who oppose the personal enterprise system and resent a healthy oil and gas industry which typifies, and reflects credit on, the personal enterprise system.

Depletion allowance is a carefully thought-out way to tax in a fair manner segment of the U.S. economy which does not fit the tax laws provided for any other industry. Besides oil and gas, there are depletion allowances on more than 100 other irreplaceable products. Without depletion allowance producers would be paying the equivalent of a tax on capital in addition to income tax. Eliminating depletion allowance would also be the equivalent of placing an additional tax between the producers and consumers. The consumer would bear most of it.

The difference between the 27½% and cost depletion, gained by the government, would be sufficient money to operate the government only a few hours. The producing industry, which provides employment for thousands of people, would suffer, and the government would collect much less tax than it now does. Many producers would be forced out of business; and the federal government, with its notoriously inefficient operations, would have to drill and produce the wells. Here again, consumers would suffer from bureaucratic inefficiency. If depletion allowance should be eliminated, the taxpayers, as usual, would be the ones depleted. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Nixon tells GOP leaders that U.S. troops will start leaving Vietnam this summer; Army already has authorized over-all plans for withdrawal; Hanoi expected to be slow in reacting.

WASHINGTON--President Nixon has confined to Republican Congressional leaders that he would like to begin withdrawing American troops from Vietnam and replacing them with South Vietnamese troops this year. But he would like the proposal to come from Saigon.

"It would be better to let the idea come from Thieu and Ky," he said, referring to South Vietnam's president and vice president.

Meanwhile the Rand Corporation and Hudson Institute, two of the nation's biggest policy planners, have drafted detailed projections for an American withdrawal.

The Paris negotiators are dramatically close to a military settlement. The big obstacle, which may hold up a peace for months, will be a political settlement. The search for a political strategy, more than anything else, is what is bringing President Nixon and President Thieu to Midway Island for their June 8 mid-Pacific meeting.

The President denied press reports that resistance from our South Vietnamese allies had precipitated the meeting. Relations between Washington and Saigon are better, he indicated, than at any time since the bombing halt.

In fact, he said, the South Vietnamese not only are willing to discuss a political settlement but are secretly studying a constitutional amendment which would permit communists to vote in a national election. President Thieu would, however, also like an amendment to extend his presidential term from four to seven years.

Despite the optimistic outlook for a Vietnam settlement, Nixon repeated to GOP leaders that he is prepared for an about-face if the peace negotiations break down.

"It is important to note," he said sternly, "if we should be rebuffed we have other options."

--Hanoi Will Be Slow--

Speaking in confidence, he told them that he had held up his peace proposals almost three weeks because of the communist attacks and shellings of South Vietnamese cities.

"The decision to make the speech," he said, "was made on April 20." Under communist fire. It might have made it appear that he was reacting to military pressure.

White House national security adviser Henry Kissinger boasted to the GOP leaders that, outside of the communist bloc, the President's proposal had received a favorable response everywhere except in Sweden.

"For the first time," he said, "The Japanese leaders supported the United States position on Vietnam. Even in Yugoslavia the reaction was moderately good."

Kissinger warned, however, that there will be no immediate response from Hanoi.

"It is going to take the communists two or three months to revise their strategy," he predicted. "Only then can we see whether conciliation is going to work."

Hanoi is hard at work analyzing and discussing the nation offer. It takes "a long time" for Hanoi to change its policy directives, Kissinger added; even longer to carry out the new directives. He explained that Hanoi prepares for weeks for a military offensive or withdrawal, because both men and materials have to be infiltrated in small units.

Meanwhile Hanoi can be expected to repeat its routine demands for unconditional military withdrawal until new decisions are made.

- Nixon's Trustees--

There's interesting backgrounds to some of the Trustees of the new Richard Nixon foundation which the White House announced recently. One of the trustees is Donald Kendall, President of Pepsico in New York City.

Kendall has just written a letter to various fat cats on the stationery of his firm at 500 Park Avenue, soliciting funds for BIPAC. BIPAC, business industry political action committee, is an organization of big business moguls dedicated to electing a more conservative Congress in 1970. To this end Nixon's trustee Donald Kendall wrote to fellow businessmen:

"There will be a few special elections to fill vacant seats in Congress this year. Other than these, everything will 'seem to be quiet' on the national political front. However, the quiet is deceptive. Intensive plans are under ay by political lkorganizations involving next year's mid-term Congressional elections, which can make or break an administration favorable to business . .

"BIPAC is also making its plans for 1970. Its sights are set on protecting the gains made in the house and replacing enough Senators to erase the liberal edge which has prevailed in the Senate since 1954. Its analysis of the outlook is very encouraging.

"However, Senate contests usually require a lot of money. BIPAC is aiming at a political action fund of $1 million so that it will be able to provide enough campaign help where it counts most. Therefore it is important for all BIPAC members to spend in their annual dues this year as well as next, as all campaign support funds must come from individuals."

Kendall concluded by asking that funds be sent to Paul W. Kayser, who is both executive director of the national alliance for business and Vice President of Pepsico in charge of industrial relations.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
MEMORIAL DAY 1968

Memorial Day deservedly is a hallowed day, not a holiday in the carnival sense.

Though the day has come to be devoted to family picnics and other kinds of recreation, it properly should begin with rememberance and appreciation of the dead in all our wars.

Memorial Day, or Decoration Day as some prefer to call it, had a tender beginning.

A Virginia woman, Cassandra Moncure, is credited with starting the custom among Southern ladies of decorating the graves of soldiers, both Confederate and Union. Their reason for choosing May 30 as the day to pay this lovely tribute is not certain.

In 1868, just 10 years ago today, Maj. Gen. John T. Logan, commander - in - chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, the organization of Union veterans, proclaimed May 30 as Memorial Day.

So it is that the day has been observed in most of the nation since, although some of the Southern states have other days set aside.

Memorial Day 1969 has special, even awesome meaning because of the mounting number of American war dead in Vietnam.

In the last two weeks, more than 1000 valiant United States fighting men have been killed, while so-called "peace talks" make no progress in Paris.

Since 1961, there have been 23,500 Americans killed in combat and 143,676 wounded. Another 3865 non-combat deaths are attributable to the war.

The casualty tolls are past those of the Korean War, another undeclared conflict in which the United States pursued a fatalistic, no-win policy.

The Americans fighting in Vietnam are doing their duty.

Morale of the men in action is generally good, considering the doubtful strategy employed. The troops are the antithesis of the scraggly peaceniks who apparently are too cowardly to serve their country, and capable only of causing disturbances at home, to their lasting dishonor.

The United States has a debt to the brave men fighting and dying in Vietnam.

The debt can be paid only by ending the war with honor.

And there has not yet been discovered a better way to end a war than in victory.

Allies emphasize 40-to-1 kill rates" which is one hell of a lot of consolation to the parents, wives and children of the one American.

We don't need to withdraw, just clobber them, as long as we don't they will continue to win.

The 40 that North Vietnam lose just means more food for the ones that are left.

Why don't we clobber them?

ABOUT THAT RUSSIAN DRESS. . .

That cotton dress which sells for $5.55 in Leningrad brings up a staggering fact about the Soviet Union: It is a nation oppressed by Communist economics.

Miss Sargent said, that the average pay of a Russian industrial worker is $83 a month (based on a 6-day week).

Poor Ivan. He has to work almost 1½ days to buy his wife that dress.

In the United States, a secretary who makes $100 a week could buy a better cotton dress for $3.98 - and would have to work for it for 1½ hours.

That is if you could get her to buy a $3.98 dress in the first place.

WHAT STIRS WITHIN LIBERALISM'S TENT?

What stirs within the tent of doctrinaire liberalism?

One asks this after considering certain surprising statements made lately by the tentmakers.

Perhaps it is merely the approaching election season which motivates liberals to make sounds like conservatives. Consider statements made by Pat Moynihan, the urban expert. Behold the Richard Goodwin who bubbles like Goldwater.

First, there's Moynihan, who shook the rafters of liberalism when he addressed the national board of the super liberal Americans for Democratic Action:

"An especial problem of American liberals" is Viet Nam and the urban riots "because more than anyone else it is they who have been in office, in power at the time of, and in large measure presided over the onset of both."

On the Viet Nam War:

"(it) was thought up and is being managed by the men John F. Kennedy brought to Washington."

On the riots:

"(the cities) erupted in the aftermath of one of the most extraordinary periods of liberal electoral victories that we have ever experienced. Who are we, then, to the pointing fingers?"

On liberals who:

"Must divest themselves of the notion that the nation, especially the cities, can be run from Washington (which) is good at collecting revenues and rather bad at disbursing services . . . "

The foregoing is candid, but might take second place to some statements by Richard Goodwin, former law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter and idea man for President Kennedy:

"One need only look at the fantastic labyrinth of welfare programs, the monstrous incapacities of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare . . . as well as the foreseeable futilities of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development and Transportation, to realize that something is wrong with the old approach.

"Antipoverty and job retaining programs should be increasingly handed over to the community groups instead of being drawn, as they now are, closer to the federal government. Aid to education might well be administered to a far larger degree by local boards.

"Sharing in the general euphoria of power, the nine justices of the Supreme Court make major political decisions, unresponsive to the democratic process, in secret meetings on Friday afternoons. Both the number and the scope of these decisions steadily mount."

Here, two respected liberals attack the sanctity of Washington's long-held prerogatives, point out the bureaucratic ratholes through which hard-earned dollars are poured and - shock of shocks - suggest that local control might have some merit after all.

But alas, these are words which come easily and which might not be again uttered within the ranks until this time in 1971.

And anybody who suggests that the timing might coincide with another upcoming presidential election is an extremist.

EQUAL TIME FOR COMMUNISTS

Imagine it is the year 1943. Americans are fighting the Nazi legions in an effort to save the world from Hitler and his National Socialism.

As this is occurring and American men are dying in the field, a New York radio station receives a letter from the Federal Communications Commission ordering the station to give equal time to the Brown Shirts, a Nazi group, because the station alleged that the Brown Shirts is a fascist group controlled by American Nazis.

The aftermath of such an order would be that the FCC members responsible for the order would have to leave town rather hurriedly. Likely, the FCC building would be wrecked by outraged Americans.

This imagined situation just couldn't occur, but something mighty like it has. The situation and circumstances are almost the same: Americans are fighting Socialists/ Communists in Viet Nam and Korea, are watching their activities in Castro's Caribbean bastion, and have thousands of servicemen guarding Europe from Communist aggression.

And Station WHN of New York City was ordered Feb. 2, 1968, to give a Communist youth front, the W.E.B. DuBois Club, equal time because the station said the DuBois Club "is Marxist," "Red," "Founded . . . and controlled by American Communists" and "foremost among the activities currently directed against our young people."

The only difference between the imagined and real situation is that there was no such thing as the Fairness Doctrine back in 1943. The Fairness Doctrine requires that equal broadcast time for rebuttal be given by stations to any person or group subject to personal attack by broadcast stations.

This is a good doctrine, one that springs from the American sense of fair play. However, it can benefit anyone dedicated to destruction of everything from American fair play to American freedom. Unfortunately, the ruling is a product of the death wish philosophy of those in high places who won't prosecute traitors or who hand down edicts which say that Communists ought to be treated like anybody else, when the facts are quite plain that Communists are not like anybody else. Communist teachers can't be fired because of their anti-American ideology; Communist seamen can't be kept out of the Merchant Marine; Communist workers can't be denied employment in defense plants: all of which prove that the death wish philosophy has taken its form and appears to be guiding the Republic.

The FCC ruling is based on the definition of controversy. WHN says it is incontrovertible that the DuBois Club is a Communist front, that this is truth and fact, and therefore no equal time is called for. Backing the station have been comments on the Communist makeup of the DuBois Clubs by J. Edgar Hoover, the Attorney General and the Communists themselves.

But the FCC disagrees in a classic model of say-nothing bureaucratese. See Broadcast Action italic portion.

If this decision is allowed to stand and thus set a precedent, then the FCC will have materially aided the Communist cause in this country. It will mean that no station can give the truth about Communists and communism without the threat of having to broadcast Communist lies.

Communists in the schools, on merchant ships, in the defense plants and, now, on the air with impunity.

Why do we protect and nurture Communists at home and fight them in Viet Nam and Korea?

The Missouri Highway Patrol today urged drivers to use extreme caution over the Memorial Day weekend to hold the holiday traffic death toll in check.

Colonel E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, the Patrol Superintendent, noted that 20 persons were killed on Missouri streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend last year. Ninety-four persons have died in traffic accidents over this holiday period in the past five years.

"Most highways will be heavily traveled over the Memorial Day holiday weekend, Hockaday noted. "An extra good job of driving will be necessary on the part of all motorists. Anticipate the worst from other drivers and adjust your driving accordingly. Be patient in heavy traffic and avoid excessive speed and imprudent passing."

Last year, Memorial Day came on a Thursday. Eight persons were killed on that day in Missouri traffic accidents. Four lost their lives on Friday, three on Saturday and five were killed on Sunday.

"The first and last hours of the holiday weekend are particularly dangerous for motorists," Hockaday stated. "Travelers are in a hurry to reach their particular holiday destination. Later, they are often just as much in a rush to get back home. When you take to the road this Memorial Day weekend, take your time. Don't mar your holiday by being involved in a traffic accident."

The official traffic death count for the Memorial Day holiday weekend begins at 6 p.m., Thursday, May 29 and ends at midnight, Sunday, June 1.

Perhaps the oldest joke in the 20th-century America is the woman driver put-on, according to The Travelers Insurance Companies annual booklet on highway accident statistics.

Of the 68,000 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1968, only 10,000 were women.

However, a Travelers spokesman notes that "the big gun in this battle of the sexes is the canard that women are emotionally incapable of handling a car in an emergency. Or than an ignorance of anything mechanical makes it impossible for them to understand how to drive safely.

"Some women do get rattled easily," the spokesman conceeds. "Some women are bewildered by nuts and bolts. And precisely the same can be said for some men," he added.

Statistics in the booklet prove many reasons why cars crash: speed too fast for conditions; driving on the wrong side of the road; did not have the right of way; cutting into a line of traffic; passing on curve or hill; passing on wrong side; failure to signal and improper signaling; reckless driving, etc. Sex of the drive is not a proven reason.

"The fact is," the spokesman said, "there are many more male drivers who drive many more miles than the average female. Until we have figures indicating the number of miles driven by male vs. female, the women-driver joke will remain no more than a put-on."

PLANNED POVERTY

When Will Rogers, who was proud of his Indian blood, was asked by a haughty dowager whether his ancestors came over the Mayflower, he replied: "They met the boat."

Since Rogers uttered those words the plight of his people has been deteriorating steadily and rapidly. However, we don't recall that any of our most lachrymose pundits have shed any tears for them. Of course, there are only about 300,000 Indian votes in the national elections, and that many explain ithe oversight.

The Association on American Indian Affairs in New York City reports the following statistical averages for our Indian population: Schooling, 5 years; life span, 42 years; family income, $1,500; unemployment, 45 per cent. Tom Tiede, an NEA newsman, recently described the Navajo Reservation as the nation's largest ghetto: 25,000 square miles of privation; 18 million acres of despair; 100,000 faces of poverty; a median income for a family of five of $580 a year.

"It is a sad fact that this country's greatest landowners have become the nation's smallest minority, the poorest and least educated." With those words, Wendell Chine welcomed delegates from all over the country to the National Congress of American Indians in Portland, Oregon, last October. A Mescalero Apache, Chine called for legislation to improve Indian education, employment, fishing rights, hunting rights, housing and sanitation for the Indians.

It seems not to have come to the attention of the Supreme Court that the Interior Department is spending millions each year to build segregated schools for the Indians, while tons of money are being spent in metropolitan areas to bus children to integrated schools. But the schooling program hasn't been what you'd call a model of success. Only three of ten Navajo adults can read or write English.

Secretary of the Interior, Stewart L. Udall, testified recently that the American Indians comprise "the most poverty stricken group in this country." He was taking for more money for his department.

Unhappily, this whole sorrowful tale is an accounting of the stewardship of the planners in Washington over the span of almost a century, and as good a reason as we can think of for resistant Big Brotherism every waking moment of our lives.

Brain-Storm Your Job

Now comes a British psychologist with a proposal he thinks might do more than the long lunch hour in making the job bearable.

Dr. George Gall says that what is needed in today's massive aggregations of employers and employed, and for housewives for that matter, are "think breaks," 10 minutes away from work when everybody would do nothing (sneaking a cigarette or an extra cup of coffee would defeat the purpose, he says) but ponder their jobs, how to improve and think positively about them.

The breaks would, in effect, be time-out periods from the too-fast pace of modern life, enabling people to contemplate that life and, theoretically at least, therefore get more out of it.

There is a possible drawback. The way our increasingly beehivelike society has been going, if people really stopped to think about their jobs, would they ever go back to them?

27½% DEPLETION

There is enough bad government that I prefer devoting my time to trying to achieve good government, and I apologize for dealing with a subject where I have a selfish interest. But the truth about depletion allowance needs to be understood.

Depletion allowance has long been "misinterpreted" to the public by those who oppose the personal enterprise system and resent a healthy oil and gas industry which typifies, and reflects credit on, the personal enterprise system.

Depletion allowance is a carefully thought-out way to tax in a fair manner segment of the U.S. economy which does not fit the tax laws provided for any other industry. Besides oil and gas, there are depletion allowances on more than 100 other irreplaceable products. Without depletion allowance producers would be paying the equivalent of a tax on capital in addition to income tax. Eliminating depletion allowance would also be the equivalent of placing an additional tax between the producers and consumers. The consumer would bear most of it.

The difference between the 27½% and cost depletion, gained by the government, would be sufficient money to operate the government only a few hours. The producing industry, which provides employment for thousands of people, would suffer, and the government would collect much less tax than it now does. Many producers would be forced out of business; and the federal government, with its notoriously inefficient operations, would have to drill and produce the wells. Here again, consumers would suffer from bureaucratic inefficiency. If depletion allowance should be eliminated, the taxpayers, as usual, would be the ones depleted. HLH

NEW YORK (AP) — Life today seems to lack stability.

Americans once feared winding up in a rut; now many would give almost anything if they could but find something resembling a rut in which to hide from the ever-pressing onrush of the world.

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Nixon tells GOP leaders that U.S. troops will start leaving Vietnam this summer; Army already has authorized over-all plans for withdrawal; Hanoi expected to be slow in reacting.

WASHINGTON--President Nixon has confined to Republican Congressional leaders that he would like to begin withdrawing American troops from Vietnam and replacing them with South Vietnamese troops this year. But he would like the proposal to come from Saigon.

"It would be better to let the idea come from Thieu and Ky," he said, referring to South Vietnam's president and vice president.

Meanwhile the Rand Corporation and Hudson Institute, two of the nation's biggest policy planners, have drafted detailed projections for an American withdrawal.

The Paris negotiators are dramatically close to a military settlement. The big obstacle, which may hold up a peace for months, will be a political settlement. The search for a political strategy, more than anything else, is what is bringing President Nixon and President Thieu to Midway Island for their June 8 mid-Pacific meeting.

The President denied press reports that resistance from our South Vietnamese allies had precipitated the meeting. Relations between Washington and Saigon are better, he indicated, than at any time since the bombing halt.

In fact, he said, the South Vietnamese not only are willing to discuss a political settlement but are secretly studying a constitutional amendment which would permit communists to vote in a national election. President Thieu would, however, also like an amendment to extend his presidential term from four to seven years.

Despite the optimistic outlook for a Vietnam settlement, Nixon repeated to GOP leaders that he is prepared for an about-face if the peace negotiations break down.

"It is important to note," he said sternly, "if we should be rebuffed we have other options."

--Hanoi Will Be Slow--

Speaking in confidence, he told them that he had held up his peace proposals almost three weeks because of the communist attacks and shellings of South Vietnamese cities.

"The decision to make the speech," he said, "was made on April 20." Under communist fire. It might have made it appear that he was reacting to military pressure.

White House national security adviser Henry Kissinger boasted to the GOP leaders that, outside of the communist bloc, the President's proposal had received a favorable response everywhere except in Sweden.

"For the first time," he said, "The Japanese leaders supported the United States position on Vietnam. Even in Yugoslavia the reaction was moderately good."

Kissinger warned, however, that there will be no immediate response from Hanoi.

"It is going to take the communists two or three months to revise their strategy," he predicted. "Only then can we see whether conciliation is going to work."

Hanoi is hard at work analyzing and discussing the nation offer. It takes "a long time" for Hanoi to change its policy directives, Kissinger added; even longer to carry out the new directives. He explained that Hanoi prepares for weeks for a military offensive or withdrawal, because both men and materials have to be infiltrated in small units.

Meanwhile Hanoi can be expected to repeat its routine demands for unconditional military withdrawal until new decisions are made.

- Nixon's Trustees--

There's interesting backgrounds to some of the Trustees of the new Richard Nixon foundation which the White House announced recently. One of the trustees is Donald Kendall, President of Pepsico in New York City.

Kendall has just written a letter to various fat cats on the stationery of his firm at 500 Park Avenue, soliciting funds for BIPAC. BIPAC, business industry political action committee, is an organization of big business moguls dedicated to electing a more conservative Congress in 1970. To this end Nixon's trustee Donald Kendall wrote to fellow businessmen:

"There will be a few special elections to fill vacant seats in Congress this year. Other than these, everything will 'seem to be quiet' on the national political front. However, the quiet is deceptive. Intensive plans are under ay by political lkorganizations involving next year's mid-term Congressional elections, which can make or break an administration favorable to business . .

"BIPAC is also making its plans for 1970. Its sights are set on protecting the gains made in the house and replacing enough Senators to erase the liberal edge which has prevailed in the Senate since 1954. Its analysis of the outlook is very encouraging.

"However, Senate contests usually require a lot of money. BIPAC is aiming at a political action fund of $1 million so that it will be able to provide enough campaign help where it counts most. Therefore it is important for all BIPAC members to spend in their annual dues this year as well as next, as all campaign support funds must come from individuals."

Kendall concluded by asking that funds be sent to Paul W. Kayser, who is both executive director of the national alliance for business and Vice President of Pepsico in charge of industrial relations.

Ann Landers

Father Can't Divorce Himself From Children

Dear Ann Landers: It's obvious that you are on the first marriage and so is your husband. Otherwise you would not have given that stupid answer to the woman who asked, "How much time does a man owe his ex-wife?" (Your reply: "As much time as he wants to give her" was terrible.)

Only a second wife can know how conniving a first wife can be. My husband's ex is an authentic genius at keeping him involved in her life. The children are the perfect foils and she uses them most effectively by playing on his guilt.

Here's how it works: Wife One subtly suggests that it would be "nice" if Daddy saw Lucy in the school pageant. And, of course, Johnny would just love it if Daddy watched him play Little League baseball. Naturally Mary would be thrilled if Daddy came to her piano recital. The ex-wife goes to every one of these events, you can be sure.

My husband is expected to be present at birthday parties, confirmations, graduations, tonsilectomies, appendectomies, bone-settings and tooth extractions. He is notified immediately of any and all accidents. (Falling off a bike is an accident.)

I wonder what these women would do if their former husbands were dead, or living in a foreign country? They'd manage, wouldn't they? Please change your advice. Life is rough enough for a second wife without a sock in the jaw from Ann Landers. -- S.T.A.

Dear S.T.A.: You missed the point, dearie -- as did hundreds of other second wives who wrote to complain. I still say it's up to the husband to decide how much time he wants to devote to his first family. If Number Two Wife is wise she'll accept his decision because in the final analysis he's going to do what he wants, regardless. Any show of resentment on her part will be interpreted as jealousy and she winds up looking like a shrew.

A man may be able to divorce himself from a wife but most men cannot divorce themselves from their children -- if they're decent, that is.

Dear Ann Landers: I have never seen my problem in your column yet I can't believe I'm the only one in the world who has it.

I have a neighbor who can't bear to waste anything. At least once a week she runs over here with her leftover roast, leftover puddings and almost always it is half burned and three days old.

Yesterday she presented me with six skinny crabs in a fifteen gallon crock. I threw the crabs out the minute she left. While I was scouring the crock it suddenly dawned on me that she brings her leftover so I will clean her pots and pans. This woman is lovely in other ways but I am sick of slaving over her containers in exchange for garbage our dog won't eat. Any suggestions? -- Skullery Maid

Dear Skull: The next time Gertrude Goodhart arrives with her offerings tell her you are loaded with leftovers of your own and to please give hers to someone else. Under no circumstances should you allow the lady to leave anything. After she carries her garbage home two or three times she'll get the message.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with -- but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze And You -- For TeenAgers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Birds Shut out as Brave Mascot Aids Fireworks

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Louis got shut out by Phil Niekro and Washington got blasted by Rod Carew. But baseball's biggest loser Monday night was Atlanta's Indian mascot, Chief Nok-A-Homa.

Niekro, the Braves' knuckleballer, blanked the Cards 3-0 and Carew's two home runs led Minnesota to a 7-1 romp over the Senators. Nok-A-Homa had a roughter time than both losers though.

He got burned out of his tepee.

Nok-A-Homa, the Injun who camps behind the left field fence in Atlanta Stadium, sets off smoke bombs and goes into a war dance to celebrate every Brave home run. On Monday, though, one of his smoke bombs backfired.

When Clete Boyer tagged a two-run shot in the sixth inning, the Chief, an Ottawa-Chippewa Indian from Charlevoix, Mich. whose real name is Levi Walker, went into his act.

Then, something unscheduled happened. Flames enveloped his canvas tepee, shooting up about two feet over the top of the flimsy structure.

"It was sabotage," said Walker, who gets $10 per game for his homer celebrations. "Somebody got in my smoke bombs and fooled with them."

Undaunted by the sudden emergency, the resourceful Indian grabbed a trusty broomstick he keeps "in the tepee for housekeeping" and beat out the flames. But it was too late to save his home. The canvas will have to be replaced.

"Maybe," said Nok-A-Homa philosophically, "it was just a hot game."

It wasn't so hot for the Cardinals, who managed just five hits against Phil Niekro. The game was scoreless until the sixth when Felipe Alou opened with a single.

Felix Millan forced Alou but Orlando Cepeda, facing his exCardinal teammates for the first time, doubled for one run. Then Boyer followed with the homer which cost Nok-A-Homa his humble home.

Carew, the major league's leading hitter, boosted his average to .394 with his fourth and fifth homers of the year, each with a man on base.

The second one came in a five-run fourth inning that opened a 7-0 bulge for the Twins. Carew also had connected in the third inning.

Carew also made a sparkling play in the field in the second inning. There were runners on first and third with one out when the Minnesota second baseman lunged to stop Paul Casanova's grounder and started an inning-ending double play while on the ground.

Frank Howard broke a ninegame homer famine with his 15th of the season, accounting for Washington's only run off winner Jim Perry, 4-1.

All other major league teams and mascots had the night off.

Kansas City had the day off following a successful road trip that produced a winning 4 and 2 record. The Royals open a 10 game home stand tonight with Boston on hand for the first three games. Dick Drago will start for the Royals and Sonny Siebert for the Red Sox.

The Royals swing back into action carrying a three game winning streak. Their opponents for the homestand will include six of the American League's leading home run hitters: Frank Howard, 14, and Mike Epstein 12, of Washington; Joe Pepitone, 12, and Bobby Mercer, 10, of New York, and Boston's Rico Petrocelli, 13, and Carl Yastremzski, 10.

Atlanta pinned the loss Monday night on Nelson Briles, scoring all three runs in the sixth innings and Ron Willis gave up none in two innings of perfect relief.

The victory went to Phil Niekro on a five-hitter. He is now 7-and-3 and Briles is 2-and-4.

Ray Washburn will try to get things back in the victory column tonight for the Cards against Atlanta's Pat Jarvis.

ABC Signs for Monday Night Pro Grid Series

NEW YORK (AP) — For a "realistic price" the world of professional football entered prime time television with the announcement that the American Broadcasting Co. had agreed to view 13 regular season games for three years beginning in 1970.

The joint announcement was made Monday night by pro f otball Commissioner Pete Rozelle

e9 and Roo

The joint announcement was made Monday night by pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Roone Arledge, president of ABC sports at the commissioner's plush Park Avenue office.

The weekly series, set for Monday nights, will begin on the first Monday of the regular season in 1970. The broadcasts, in color, will be the first contract with a pro sports league for a regular series during prime television time. The telecasts will originate at 8:30 or 9 p.m. Eastern time.

Although the amount of money for the package was not discussed, Arledge did say that "the price was realistic. It was priced accordingly.

"Pro football is a great attraction and this association with pro football is in keeping with ABC's pioneering efforts in television sports coverage."

It was speculated that Rozelle would announce the complete television-money package after he meets with NBC and CBS officials to negotiate the remaining Sunday package. Current contracts with the two networks expire after the 1969 season.

CBS now covers the National Football League and NBC telecasts the American League games.

Further speculation is that each NFL club now receives $1.2 million and each AFL team gets between $800,000-900,000 per year under the present pact with the two networks.

"We're hopeful that in 1970 all 26 clubs will get more than $1.2 million apiece," Rozelle said.

Rozelle emphasized that the contract covers only 13 regular season games annually. Contracts covering the remaining games of the 26 clubs in the newly realigned pro football league will be negotiated later.

Income from all television will be shared equally by the 26 teams, Rozelle added.

Rozelle said that CBS and NBC each were given an opportunity for the Monday package first but both networks declined.

Carew Adds Power To Weapon Arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minnesota's Rod Carew not only is happy, leading the majors in hitting and threatening to become the first .400 hitter since Ted Williams but he also has added another weapon to harass enemy pitchers—the home run.

Carew, who had only nine in two seasons and only one last year, hit a pair of home runs Monday night in leading Minnesota to a 7-1 victory over the Washington Senators, their sixth consecutive loss.

The two homers—the first time in his career he has hit a pair in one game—brought his season total to five.

They also came with Ted Uhlaender on base and were more than enough to offset the 15th home run by the league leader, Washington's Frank Howard.

Minnesota scored five runs in the fourth inning on four singles and Carew's homer.

Carew's two homers and a single in four trips to the plate boosted his average three points to .394, 16 points better than Cleon Jones of the New York Mets and 55 points higher than his nearest Averican League challenger, Frank Robinson of Baltimore.

"I'm getting good pitches to hit," he said. "I haven't been chasing too many bad pitches. Every once in a while I get in a rut and start chasing bad pitches but I haven't been doing that."

Carew, the 1967 Rookie of the Year and All-Star second baseman the past two years, led the American League with a .301 average on Aug. 22 last year and then went into a late season slump.

"I got into too much trouble with the guys last year," he said, "but this year I decided to have a good time and have fun playing baseball.

"The guys have been treating me pretty good, so I'm relaxed. When I make a bad play on the field, I just shake it off and forget about it. It's been much better that way."

But Carew hasn't been making many bad plays, as his mark of only three errors will attest.

Carew, who has been hovering between .385 and .395 all season, says he believes it will be difficult for any one to end the season with a .400 batting average.

"It's tougher nowadays," he said. "The pitchers are different. They'll come in with breaking stuff on the 3-2 pitch today but they used to throw straight fast stuff before.

"But you never know what will happen," he said. "If you get lucky, you never know."

And what does the last man to hit .400 think of Carew?

Williams said: ' I haven't seen enough of him to say but he appears to be quick, speedy and shows power.

"I don't know how good a hitter he is on a one day performance," Williams said, "but on this one day, he looked pretty good."

U.S.-Soviet Meet to Renew

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dual track meet series between the United States and the Soviet Union, discontinued in 1966 when the Russians protested U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is on again — the day before America is to land a man on the moon.

The president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Al Schoenfield, in a letter to the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, said Monday the meet would be held July 18-19 in the Coliseum.

He also said a team made up of British Commonwealth athletes would compete in the meet.

Starting times for the meet were listed as 7 p.m. Friday night and 1 p.m. Saturday with a national television network broadcasting the meet nationally. It will be blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The Apollo program has the date July 20 marked on its schedule to land a man on the moon and the meet was arranged so it wouldn't clash with that planned event.

Birds Shut out as Brave Mascot Aids Fireworks

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Louis got shut out by Phil Niekro and Washington got blasted by Rod Carew. But baseball's biggest loser Monday night was Atlanta's Indian mascot, Chief Nok-A-Homa.

Niekro, the Braves' knuckleballer, blanked the Cards 3-0 and Carew's two home runs led Minnesota to a 7-1 romp over the Senators. Nok-A-Homa had a roughter time than both losers though.

He got burned out of his tepee.

Nok-A-Homa, the Injun who camps behind the left field fence in Atlanta Stadium, sets off smoke bombs and goes into a war dance to celebrate every Brave home run. On Monday, though, one of his smoke bombs backfired.

When Clete Boyer tagged a two-run shot in the sixth inning, the Chief, an Ottawa-Chippewa Indian from Charlevoix, Mich., whose real name is Levi Walker, went into his act.

Then, something unscheduled happened. Flames enveloped his canvas tepee, shooting up about two feet over the top of the flimsy structure.

"It was sabotage," said Walker, who gets $10 per game for his homer celebrations. "Somebody got in my smoke bombs and fooled with them."

Undaunted by the sudden emergency, the resourceful Indian grabbed a trusty broomstick he keeps "in the tepee for housekeeping" and beat out the flames. But it was too late to save his home. The canvas will have to be replaced.

"Maybe," said Nok-A-Homa philosophically, "it was just a hot game."

It wasn't so hot for the Cardinals, who managed just five hits against Phil Niekro. The game was scoreless until the sixth when Felipe Alou opened with a single.

Felix Millan forced Alou but Orlando Cepeda, facing his exCardinal teammates for the first time, doubled for one run. Then Boyer followed with the homer which cost Nok-A-Homa his humble home.

Carew, the major league's leading hitter, boosted his average to .394 with his fourth and fifth homers of the year, each with a man on base.

The second one came in a five-run fourth inning that opened a 7-0 bulge for the Twins. Carew also had connected in the third inning.

Carew also made a sparkling play in the field in the second inning. There were runners on first and third with one out when the Minnesota second baseman lunged to stop Paul Casanova's grounder and started an inning-ending double play while on the ground.

Frank Howard broke a ninegame homer famine with his 15th of the season, accounting for Washington's only run off winner Jim Perry, 4-1.

All other major league teams and mascots had the night off.

Kansas City had the day off following a successful road trip that produced a winning 4 and 2 record. The Royals open a 10 game home stand tonight with Boston on hand for the first three games. Dick Drago will start for the Royals and Sonny Siebert for the Red Sox.

The Royals swing back into action carrying a three game winning streak. Their opponents for the homestand will include six of the American League's leading home run hitters: Frank Howard, 14, and Mike Epstein 12, of Washington; Joe Pepitone, 12, and Bobby Mercer, 10, of New York, and Boston's Rico Petrocelli, 13, and Carl Yastremzski, 10.

Atlanta pinned the loss Monday night on Nelson Briles, scoring all three runs in the sixth innings and Ron Willis gave up none in two innings of perfect relief.

The victory went to Phil Niekro on a five-hitter. He is now 7-and-3 and Briles is 2-and-4.

Ray Washburn will try to get things back in the victory column tonight for the Cards against Atlanta's Pat Jarvis.

Tiger's Win Soured by Benvenuti's Broken Hand

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger's upset victory over middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti turned slightly sour when it was learned the Italian had suffered a broken right hand. But there were lucrative fights ahead for both winner and loser today.

"I broke the hand in the first round when I hit him high on the head. The pain was terrible," said Benvenuti after dropping a unanimous decision in a 10-round nontitle bout with the 39-year-old Biafran at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

"I was a one-handed fighter after that," said Benvenuti, grimacing in pain. Asked why he didn't quit, Nino replied quickly and firmly, "Never. I am a professional fighter."

Dr. Edwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commissioner said handsome Nino had suffered a complete break of the second metacarpal bone (behind the index finger) of the right hand.

"He won't be able to train until a minimum of eight weeks," said Dr. Campbell.

That means a delay in Benvenuti's next defense of his middleweight (160 pound) title. He whipped Don Fullmer in a title defense on Dec. 14 and his six months period of grace expires on June 14.

The World Boxing Association's championship committee insists that the 31-year-old champion must defend next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender from Miami.

Rodriguez, a one-time welterweight king, and his manager, Angelo Dundee, saw Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, completely dominate Benvenuti, who had used his injured right only sparingly.

"We'll wait for him," said Dundee. "We've been waiting a long time. I'm posting a $2,000 forfeit check with the New York Commission.

"Right now we've got offers for Benvenuti of $100,000 in Puerto Rico, $150,000 in Miami Beach, and $200,000 in San Diego which is celebrating its 200th year. My guy will take a lot less, we want the title shot.

"I'm sick over it," said Mushky Salow, manager of light heavyweight champion Bob Foster, before the word got out of Nino's broken hand. He had hoped for a lucrative match between the two champions.

A year and two days before, Foster won the light heavy crown by knocking out Giger in the fourth round.

Would Foster fight Tiger again?

"Sure, we'll be very happy to do that if the money is right," said Salow.

"He wants a $100,000," said Tiger. "I haven't got that kind of money."

The stocky, stolid Tiger, a 12-5 underdog, weighed 166 to Benvenuti's 164.

The officials had Tiger the winner by the following round scores: referee Tony Perez, 7-21; judge Joe Armstrong 6-4-1, and judge Al Berl 6-3-1. The Associated Press had Tiger in front, 7-3.

A crowd of 14,305 paid $147,431 for the television fight. Benvenuti earned $50,000 and Tiger $35,000. They may get more with television reruns. And there's the possibility of a very lucrative return match.

Giusti Sidelined By Back Injury

ST. LOUIS (AP) - A wrenched back will keep St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Dave Guisti out of play for at least three weeks, the team said Monday.

The 29-year-old Guisti, 3-4 for the season, injured muscles in his back during practice May 22.

Chuck Taylor of the Cards' Tulsa AAA team will replace the injured hurler on the roster, a spokesman said.

Tiant's Woes

CLEVELAND (NEA) — The tiny beads of sweat on Luis Tiant's forehead were starting to roll down his nose and tumble off the end of it . . . drop . . . drop . . . drop . . . and everytime he raised his hand to stop one, he always seemed too late . . . drop, drop.

He was sitting in the Cleveland Indians' dressing room, a white and red towel covering his head, hiding his kinky black hair. He had just finished running laps around the Municipal Stadium outfield and now, in a soggy cream-colored uniform, he just wanted to sit.

"See thees sweat?" he asked a reporter. "I should have been sweating like thees last weenter. But no, I seet around and eat and sleep and do nothing. So now I pay the price. I am not ready to peetch, seemple as that. I make beeg meestake leestening to ballclub. Next time, I no leesten to anyone."

At last look, Luis Tiant was winless; his earned run average was rapidly ballooning into four figures, and he scarcely resembled the Luis Tiant of 1968—the Luis Tiant who was 21-9; who had an ERA of 1.60 (lowest in the American League in 50 years), and who pitched a league-high nine shutouts, four of which came in succession.

He has done a complete turnabout this season and the reason, he says, is because he did not pitch winter ball.

"Late last season, front office asks me what I plan to do during off-season. I tell them, 'Peetch weenter ball in Venezuela, as usual.' They tell me they are pleased with my big year and they want me to take it easy for once because they don't want anytheeng happening to me. So I leesten to them and spend off-season doing nothing in Mexico City (his off-season home).

"It was beeg meestake. We Latins are deeferent. We are not like Americans. We need to keep beesy during off-season. Same theeng happened to me five years ago. I do not peetch weenter ball and I have horrible season afterward. I should have learned my lesson then, but no. Now I'm going through it all over again and I don't know when I'm going to be my old self.

"Same theeng happened to my friend, Marcellino Lopez, few seasons ago and to Pedro Ramos, too. They no peetch weenter ball either and they suffer. Look at me now. My elbow hurts when I peetch and it is getting worse. I can't throw as hard as I deed last season, and I feel weaker than ever before. In other years, more I peetch, better I feel."

Manager Alvin Dark, however, does not agree. He says Tiant's ineffectiveness stems from a completely different problem.

"Sometime last June, I think it was," says Dark, "I noticed Luis picking up some strange habits on the mound. He started using head fakes and exaggerated shoulder movements trying to confuse the hitters. All these motions and movements have taken something away from his effectiveness. I've asked him to stop jerking his head and shoulders and return to his normal delivery. I feel this will snap him out of it."

Still, Tiant remains adamant. He is, despite all other explanations, sticking to his original story.

"Right now, I feel like most peetchers at start of spreeng training. I am tired after I peetch, and I sweat a lot, and I feel weak. When I peetch weenter ball, I come to spreeng training ahead of other peetchers. When season starts, I am in best shape and start fast. This year has been exact opposite."

Donohue Heads Rookie List in Indy 500 Field

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mark Donohue, America's premier road racing driver, tops the field of rookies in cars for Friday's Indianapolis 500.

The rookie tag here, of course, refers only to the lack of previous 500 experience. Grand Prix veteran Graham Hill of Britain was a rookie when he won the 1966 race.

The average age of this year's five rookies is 31. All but Bruce Walkup, 24, are veterans in other racing circles.

Do they feel like rookies here?

"You bet I'm a rookie," says George Follmer, 35, of Arcadia, Calif., who is driving his own car. "I don't imagine you can hear that big crowd race day, but I'm sure you feel extra pressure."

Follmer's background includes success in sports car racing and a victory in the first U.S. Auto Club championship race of this season, a 150-mile event in his native Phoenix, Ariz.

Donohue, who received the Martini and Rossi Driver of the Year award last year, said he was happy about the rain that washed out the scheduled first weekend of 500 qualifying May 17-18.

"I woke up that first morning and looked out the motel window. The stands were full and it was only 8 o'clock. It kind of shook me up."

A week later, more relaxed, he put his Lola, with a turbocharged Offenhauser engine, in the fourth starting spot.

Donohue, a Brown University graduate, left an engineering job in New Jersey two years ago to begin driving full time. He lives in Media, Pa.

He'll be seeing his first Indy race and its crowd of 300,000 from the cockpit of car No. 66.

Peter Revson of New York City gives the Ivy League another representative in this year's rookie class.

Revson, 30, attended Cornell for two years. He's driving a car for Jack Brabham of Australia and starting last in the field of 33.

Walkup, from Downey, Calif., and Sonny Ates, 34, Sellersburg, Ind., complete the rookie field.

Walkup came here looking for a ride, after qualifying last year but getting bumped from the starting field.

He hooked up with car owner Don Gerhardt of Fresno, Calif., and put a turbo Offy in the 28th spot.

Ates, a veteran of the midget car ranks, is driving a car owned by Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., and grabbed the No. 14 starting slot compared to his boss' No. 25 spot.

Oil Council to Support Gas Tax Hike If Need Shown

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Oil Council announced today it will support an increase in gasoline taxes if it can be clearly shown that more funds are needed.

Proposals to raise the tax from 5 to 7 cents a gallon and issue multi-million dollar road bonds are pending in the Legislature.

John H. Denman, executive director of the council, said "it is our earnest desire that whatever action is taken by the Legislature and the voters, any new road program will be as fruitful as the gasoline tax sharing plan has been in the past seven years.

He said the tax sharing plan has produced more than $700 million for state, city and county roads in the last seven years.

"With or without a gas tax increase," Denman said, "Missouri is capable of undertaking a five-year state highway improvement program that drawfs any highway program in the state's history.

"Even without a gas tax increase, Missouri will be capable of undertaking a state highway construction program in excess of $1 billion in the next five years."

He said that would be an increase of more than 37 per cent over the last five years.

Dawson has been playing golf four years. This is the first ace for the club pro's son.

Tiger's Win Soured by Benvenuti's Broken Hand

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger's upset victory over middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti turned slightly sour when it was learned the Italian had suffered a broken right hand. But there were lucrative fights ahead for both winner and loser today.

"I broke the hand in the first round when I hit him high on the head. The pain was terrible," said Benvenuti after dropping a unanimous decision in a 10-round nontitle bout with the 39-year-old Biafran at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

"I was a one-handed fighter after that," said Benvenuti, grimacing in pain. Asked why he didn't quit, Nino replied quickly and firmly, "Never. I am a professional fighter."

Dr. Edwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commissioner said handsome Nino had suffered a complete break of the second metacarpal bone (behind the index finger) of the right hand.

"He won't be able to train until a minimum of eight weeks," said Dr. Campbell.

That means a delay in Benvenuti's next defense of his middleweight (160 pound) title. He whipped Don Fullmer in a title defense on Dec. 14 and his six months period of grace expires on June 14.

The World Boxing Association's championship committee insists that the 31-year-old champion must defend next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender from Miami.

Rodriguez, a one-time welterweight king, and his manager, Angelo Dundee, saw Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, completely dominate Benvenuti, who had used his injured right only sparingly.

"We'll wait for him," said Dundee. "We've been waiting a long time. I'm posting a $2,000 forfeit check with the New York Commission.

"Right now we've got offers for Benvenuti of $100,000 in Puerto Rico, $150,000 in Miami Beach, and $200,000 in San Diego which is celebrating its 200th year. My guy will take a lot less, we want the title shot.

"I'm sick over it," said Mushky Salow, manager of light heavyweight champion Bob Foster, before the word got out of Nino's broken hand. He had hoped for a lucrative match between the two champions.

A year and two days before, Foster won the light heavy crown by knocking out Giger in the fourth round.

Would Foster fight Tiger again?

"Sure, we'll be very happy to do that if the money is right," said Salow.

"He wants a $100,000," said Tiger. "I haven't got that kind of money."

The stocky, stolid Tiger, a 12-5 underdog, weighed 166 to Benvenuti's 164.

The officials had Tiger the winner by the following round scores: referee Tony Perez, 7-21; judge Joe Armstrong 6-4-1, and judge Al Berl 6-3-1. The Associated Press had Tiger in front, 7-3.

A crowd of 14,305 paid $147,431 for the television fight. Benvenuti earned $50,000 and Tiger $35,000. They may get more with television reruns. And there's the possibility of a very lucrative return match.

VOTING FOR 18-YEAR-OLDS REACHES HOUSE COMMITTEE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.--Missouri votes may get to vote on a constitutional amendment giving 18-year-olds the right to vote if a Senate joint resolution proposing such an election passes the legislature this session.

The proposal has passed the Senate and has been heard by the House Constitution Amendments Committee.

Sen. Raymond Howard(D-St. Louis) is sponsor of the resolution. Howard told the House committee: "In my judgement a man who can fight in Vietnam--and come back alive--has exercised mature, intelligent judgement."

Howard is worried that amendments tacked on the original resolution will cloud the issue of 18-year-olds voting. The Senate nailed an amendment on the resolution proposing that 18-year-olds be given full citizenship rights.

The amendment to the resolution would give 18-year-olds the right to marry, drink alcoholic beverages and place full financial liability on them.

Howard says that if the amendment stays on the resolution, the central issue will be "should 18-year-olds have the right to drink--not should they have the right to vote."

If the voting age was lowered, the other privileges could be given to 18-year-olds without a constitutional amendment--by statute, according to Howard.

Dr. Fred McKenney, professor of psychology at the University of Missouri Columbia campus, told the committee: "Youth has had a bad press--we only hear of the riots, crime and other negative aspects of our youth. They are more creative, better problem solvers, have more democratic spirit and more courage than the older citizens of this country."

Brian Underwood, 19, president of the Young Republicans Club in Columbia, told the committee: "Let young people get inside the system to express themselves." Underwood cited Georgia, which allows 18-year-olds to vote. Eighty per cent of the age group 18-21 in Georgia voted in the last election, compared to about 56 per cent overall, according to Underwood.

HUNGATE POLLS LEGISLATORS ABOUT ELECTORAL COLLEGE

U. S. Rep. William Hungate (D-Mo.) was in Jefferson City May 19 to inform and get a consensus from Missouri legislators concerning a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college and elect the President by direct popular vote.

The popular vote amendment has been reported out of the U.S. House Judiciary Committee, of which Hungate is a member, by a vote of 29-6. If it should pass both houses with a two-thirds majority, it must then be ratified by legislatures in 38 states.

Under the proposal, the winning candidate must get at least 40 per cent of the vote. Lacking this, a run-off election would be held between the top two candidates.

"What I want are the general views of what the legislators would accept," Hungate said, and indicated that three other methods of changing the electoral college may also be considered.

Under one alternative, a state's voters would be apportioned among its congressional districts rather than the present system where the candidate carrying a state gets all the electoral votes.

President Richard M. Nixon said during the 1968 campaign that he favored this plan. Hungate said he favored reverting to this plan if one candidate did not get 40 per cent of the popular vote because a run-off election would take too long to determine the winner.

A second alternative would be to bind legally a state's electors to support the winner in the state. At present, electors usually do so, but it is not required.

The third alternative would apportion the state's electoral votes on the basis of popular vote.

If the popular vote amendment or one of the alternatives is adopted this session, Hungate said it would probably not go into effect until 1976.

Several Missouri legislators expressed doubts about the amendment. "I am hesitant to flee from the dangers I know to the dangers I know not," Sen. John Downs (D-St. Joseph) said.

THIRD CLASS CITIES MAY GET EARNINGS TAX

Cities in the third class category will be able to join Kansas City and St. Louis in the assessment of an earnings tax, if the Senate passes a bill sent to it by the House.

The bill would let the voters in third class and constitutional charter cities with populations between 12,000 and 40,000 authorize an earnings tax of one-half of one per cent.

The bill is sponsored by Rep. Thomas Graham (D-Jefferson City) who said he felt the bill was a method of allowing Missouri cities to solve their own financial problems.

Dexter Jaycees Plan Prayer, Peace Vigil

DEXTER - The Dexter Jaycees will sponsor a Prayer Vigil for Peace Thursday in the Presbyterian Church.

The Vigil will be held from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m., and persons are asked to come at their convenience and stay as long as they choose.

The local observance is part of a national Jaycee movement to support President Nixon's peace proposal, outlined in a recent speech.

The national Jaycee body adopted a resolution recently that supported the program. Dexter's Mayor Willis Conner penned a local resolution along the same lines.

The national resolution is as follows:

A PROCLAMATION IN SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT RICHARD M. NIXON'S PEACE PROPOSAL

Whereas, The Jaycees stand in full support of the efforts of President Richard M. Nixon in his quest for an honorable and positive peace in the country of South Viet Nam, and,

Whereas, we support the more than one-half million Americans in South Viet Nam and proudly salute and pay tribute to those 35,000 men who have gallantly and unselfishly sacrificed their lives in this quest for peace, and,

Whereas, we seek nothing for America, but rather a climate for a self-determination of the peoples of South Viet Nam, and,

Whereas, we believe that now is the time to indicate to the other side that they should not plan on the resolve of the United States to crumble from within,

But it therefore resolved that we, The United States Jaycees seek the individual support of every organization, every American to provide a positive unity behind The President of the United States of America in his efforts to effect a lasting and positive world peace.

VOTING FOR 18-YEAR-OLDS REACHES HOUSE COMMITTEE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.--Missouri votes may get to vote on a constitutional amendment giving 18-year-olds the right to vote if a Senate joint resolution proposing such an election passes the legislature this session.

The proposal has passed the Senate and has been heard by the House Constitution Amendments Committee.

Sen. Raymond Howard(D-St. Louis) is sponsor of the resolution. Howard told the House committee: "In my judgement a man who can fight in Vietnam--and come back alive--has exercised mature, intelligent judgement."

Howard is worried that amendments tacked on the original resolution will cloud the issue of 18-year-olds voting. The Senate nailed an amendment on the resolution proposing that 18-year-olds be given full citizenship rights.

The amendment to the resolution would give 18-year-olds the right to marry, drink alcoholic beverages and place full financial liability on them.

Howard says that if the amendment stays on the resolution, the central issue will be "should 18-year-olds have the right to drink--not should they have the right to vote."

If the voting age was lowered, the other privileges could be given to 18-year-olds without a constitutional amendment--by statute, according to Howard.

Dr. Fred McKenney, professor of psychology at the University of Missouri Columbia campus, told the committee: "Youth has had a bad press--we only hear of the riots, crime and other negative aspects of our youth. They are more creative, better problem solvers, have more democratic spirit and more courage than the older citizens of this country."

Brian Underwood, 19, president of the Young Republicans Club in Columbia, told the committee: "Let young people get inside the system to express themselves." Underwood cited Georgia, which allows 18-year-olds to vote. Eighty per cent of the age group 18-21 in Georgia voted in the last election, compared to about 56 per cent overall, according to Underwood.

HUNGATE POLLS LEGISLATORS ABOUT ELECTORAL COLLEGE

U. S. Rep. William Hungate (D-Mo.) was in Jefferson City May 19 to inform and get a consensus from Missouri legislators concerning a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college and elect the President by direct popular vote.

The popular vote amendment has been reported out of the U.S. House Judiciary Committee, of which Hungate is a member, by a vote of 29-6. If it should pass both houses with a two-thirds majority, it must then be ratified by legislatures in 38 states.

Under the proposal, the winning candidate must get at least 40 per cent of the vote. Lacking this, a run-off election would be held between the top two candidates.

"What I want are the general views of what the legislators would accept," Hungate said, and indicated that three other methods of changing the electoral college may also be considered.

Under one alternative, a state's voters would be apportioned among its congressional districts rather than the present system where the candidate carrying a state gets all the electoral votes.

President Richard M. Nixon said during the 1968 campaign that he favored this plan. Hungate said he favored reverting to this plan if one candidate did not get 40 per cent of the popular vote because a run-off election would take too long to determine the winner.

A second alternative would be to bind legally a state's electors to support the winner in the state. At present, electors usually do so, but it is not required.

The third alternative would apportion the state's electoral votes on the basis of popular vote.

If the popular vote amendment or one of the alternatives is adopted this session, Hungate said it would probably not go into effect until 1976.

Several Missouri legislators expressed doubts about the amendment. "I am hesitant to flee from the dangers I know to the dangers I know not," Sen. John Downs (D-St. Joseph) said.

THIRD CLASS CITIES MAY GET EARNINGS TAX

Cities in the third class category will be able to join Kansas City and St. Louis in the assessment of an earnings tax, if the Senate passes a bill sent to it by the House.

The bill would let the voters in third class and constitutional charter cities with populations between 12,000 and 40,000 authorize an earnings tax of one-half of one per cent.

The bill is sponsored by Rep. Thomas Graham (D-Jefferson City) who said he felt the bill was a method of allowing Missouri cities to solve their own financial problems.

Dear Sir:

Many ask, "What can I, one person, do to help turn the tide against communism and crime?" Your sentiment is splendid, but unless active you can do nothing. Find one person who will cooperate with you and your effectiveness is more than doubled. Solicit four others to become a Team of Six who will promptly elect a chairman. The chairman can contact chairmen of other pro-freedom teams and you will be engaged in a crusade which you helped start. Each member may pledge to devote 20 minutes of a certain one of the weekdays each week to freedom causes. This may seem little, but the Team of Six will deliver two hours per week, a thousand teams 2,000 hours which could decide an issue in a city; 20,000 in a metropolis. You will have become one of an organized crusade for "the Truth-Side."

Bar President Pleads for Public Defender System

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The president of the Missouri Bar said today unless the legislature enacts a public defender system Missouri will be "faced with a complete breakdown in the administration of criminal justice in our courts."

Bar President Martin J. Purcell of Kansas City said a public defender bill has received first round approval in the House but has been to its economics committee. No action has been taken there since March 4.

It has been estimated the system, if enacted, would cost the state $1.8 million a year.

'Missouri is one of only three states which have failed to establish such a system," Purcell said in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the Jefferson City Rotary Club.

He said the bill "now languishes in the House Economic Committee because some members of the legislature think there is a 'cheaper' way of providing necessary services.

"The extensive studies conducted by the Missouri Bar Committee prove that, in those areas where the caseload warrants it, the cost of using the appointed counsel system runs three to four times as high as does the use of a full time public defender."

Now Missouri courts appoint legal counsel for accused persons who do not have money to employ their own legal aid. The court appointed attorneys must spend their own money to prepare the defense and get no return from the court.

Under the defender system, as proposed in the pending House bill, state paid public defenders would be appointed by a special commission in 13 circuit court districts.

Elsewhere the courts would appoint defense attorneys and would pay them all expenses plus a reasonable fee to defend the time of arrest through all appeals.

U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Escobeda and Miranda cases, require that indigent accused persons must be represented in court. Purcell said the public defender system is the best and most economical solution.

ARMED FORCES

Kenneth W. Womack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foard Womach, Catron, Mo. has received an appointment to the United States Air Force Academy. Womack is a sophomore majoring in civil engineering at the University of Missouri. He was nominated for appointment by the 440th Cadet Wing, Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, at the University of Missouri and received the appointment through competitive examination, both mental and physical.

The Mission of the Academy is to "provide instruction, experience, and motivation to each cadet so that he will graduate with the knowledge, character, and qualities of leadership essential to his progressive development as a career officer in the United States Air Force." The Academy is located seven miles south of Colorado Springs, Colo., at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains.

Womach begins the four-year course of instruction with seven and one- half weeks of basic training beginning this June. The academic year begins the first of September.

While at a cadet for the past two years in the ROTC program at the University, Womack has received the University Board of Curator's Medal as the Outstanding Freshman Cadet, has been cited as a Distinguished GMC (freshman or sophomore) cadet and has received the General Dynamics Award, awarded to an outstanding cadet majoring in engineering. He is also a member of Arnold Air Society, a national honorary of selected Air Force ROTC cadets.

FIRE SUPPORT BASE MOORE (9th Inf Div 10) -- The rainy season is both the worst and best part of the year in Vietnam's Mekong Delta, according to Specialist Four Howard G. Bradley of East Prairie, Mo., a radio- telephone - operator with Company B of the 9th Division's 3d Battalion, 39th Infantry.

"The rains are bad," Bradley said. "They make the terrain pretty rough but Chuck (VC) doesn't run around as much."

During the monsoon season, many of the various types of VC booby traps are ineffective due to the wetness.

"That is what we fight -- booby traps," Bradley said. "There isn't that much personal contact with the enemy. Most of the time, we fight the booby traps that the VC left before they moved out of the area."

"When we do make contact with the enemy, that is when my job is most important," he continued.

As radio-telephone - operator (RTO), Bradley is responsible for calling in gunships that support the ground troops.

"The most interesting part of my job as RTO is that I know what is going on all the time," Bradley said. "Any commands or messages are passed on to the element through me. I can also tell where the other elements are and what they are doing."

Like most everyone in an infantry unit, Bradley has spent time in other jobs besides RTO.

"I was point man for a while and then a rifleman," he said. "I worked with he Tiger Scouts then and found them to be a great help. If it had not been for these ex-Viet Cong, a lot of our people would have been really hurt."

DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD

Dear Sir:

Many ask, "What can I, one person, do to help turn the tide against communism and crime?" Your sentiment is splendid, but unless active you can do nothing. Find one person who will cooperate with you and your effectiveness is more than doubled. Solicit four others to become a Team of Six who will promptly elect a chairman. The chairman can contact chairmen of other pro-freedom teams and you will be engaged in a crusade which you helped start. Each member may pledge to devote 20 minutes of a certain one of the weekdays each week to freedom causes. This may seem little, but the Team of Six will deliver two hours per week, a thousand teams 2,000 hours which could decide an issue in a city; 20,000 in a metropolis. You will have become one of an organized crusade for "the Truth-Side."

Constructively,

Bar President Pleads for Public Defender System

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The president of the Missouri Bar said today unless the legislature enacts a public defender system Missouri will be "faced with a complete breakdown in the administration of criminal justice in our courts."

Bar President Martin J. Purcell of Kansas City said a public defender bill has received first round approval in the House but has been to its economics committee. No action has been taken there since March 4.

It has been estimated the system, if enacted, would cost the state $1.8 million a year.

'Missouri is one of only three states which have failed to establish such a system," Purcell said in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the Jefferson City Rotary Club.

He said the bill "now languishes in the House Economic Committee because some members of the legislature think there is a 'cheaper' way of providing necessary services.

"The extensive studies conducted by the Missouri Bar Committee prove that, in those areas where the caseload warrants it, the cost of using the appointed counsel system runs three to four times as high as does the use of a full time public defender."

Now Missouri courts appoint legal counsel for accused persons who do not have money to employ their own legal aid. The court appointed attorneys must spend their own money to prepare the defense and get no return from the court.

Under the defender system, as proposed in the pending House bill, state paid public defenders would be appointed by a special commission in 13 circuit court districts.

Elsewhere the courts would appoint defense attorneys and would pay them all expenses plus a reasonable fee to defend the accused person from the time of arrest through all appeals.

U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Escobeda and Miranda cases, require that indigent accused persons must be represented in court. Purcell said the public defender system is the best and most economical solution.

ARMED FORCES

Kenneth W. Womack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foard Womach, Catron, Mo. has received an appointment to the United States Air Force Academy. Womack is a sophomore majoring in civil engineering at the University of Missouri. He was nominated for appointment by the 440th Cadet Wing, Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, at the University of Missouri and received the appointment through competitive examination, both mental and physical.

The Mission of the Academy is to "provide instruction, experience, and motivation to each cadet so that he will graduate with the knowledge, character, and qualities of leadership essential to his progressive development as a career officer in the United States Air Force." The Academy is located seven miles south of Colorado Springs, Colo., at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains.

Womach begins the four-year course of instruction with seven and one- half weeks of basic training beginning this June. The academic year begins the first of September.

While at a cadet for the past two years in the ROTC program at the University, Womack has received the University Board of Curator's Medal as the Outstanding Freshman Cadet, has been cited as a Distinguished GMC (freshman or sophomore) cadet and has received the General Dynamics Award, awarded to an outstanding cadet majoring in engineering. He is also a member of Arnold Air Society, a national honorary of selected Air Force ROTC cadets.

FIRE SUPPORT BASE MOORE (9th Inf Div 10) -- The rainy season is both the worst and best part of the year in Vietnam's Mekong Delta, according to Specialist Four Howard G. Bradley of East Prairie, Mo., a radio- telephone - operator with Company B of the 9th Division's 3d Battalion, 39th Infantry.

"The rains are bad," Bradley said. "They make the terrain pretty rough but Chuck (VC) doesn't run around as much."

During the monsoon season, many of the various types of VC booby traps are ineffective due to the wetness.

"That is what we fight -- booby traps," Bradley said. "There isn't that much personal contact with the enemy. Most of the time, we fight the booby traps that the VC left before they moved out of the area."

"When we do make contact with the enemy, that is when my job is most important," he continued.

As radio-telephone - operator (RTO), Bradley is responsible for calling in gunships that support the ground troops.

"The most interesting part of my job as RTO is that I know what is going on all the time," Bradley said. "Any commands or messages are passed on to the element through me. I can also tell where the other elements are and what they are doing."

Like most everyone in an infantry unit, Bradley has spent time in other jobs besides RTO.

"I was point man for a while and then a rifleman," he said. "I worked with he Tiger Scouts then and found them to be a great help. If it had not been for these ex-Viet Cong, a lot of our people would have been really hurt."

Cadet McAdoo, who will receive a bachelor of science degree, was appointed to the Military Academy by former Representative Paul C. Jones (D-Mo). He is a 1965 graduate of Bloomfield High School.

While at West Point, the 21-year- old cadet was a member of the Cadet Glee Club, the French Language Club and the Fine Arts Forum.

McAdoo held the cadet rank of sergeant, and his branch of service was the signal corps.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland Chief of Staff, United States, Army, is scheduled to speak at the graduation ceremonies.

Wanted Language Changed

At the founding of this nation, bitterness against the British was so strong that some members of the Continental Congress proposed that English be banished as the official language of the United States and either Hebrew or Greek be adopted instead.

Planning A Try At Amending Tax Measure

JEFFERSON CITY - Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., of Cape Girardeau, a leader in the successful fight this week to kill a corporate income tax bill, intends to offer an amendment this week when the Senate again considers an income tax package designed to raise about $73 million.

He gives the amended tax plan a chance of passage, though acknowledging that the margin may be slim.

The measure killed last Wednesday by a 14-19 vote would have prevented corporations from deducting federal income taxes from their state returns.

"I opposed that on philosophical grounds. When we start disallowing federal taxes on state returns, the federal government might start disallowing state taxes on federal returns," Sen. Spradling commented.

Sen. Spradling said he intends to introduce an amendment which would increase the raise in corporate income taxes to five per cent, commenting that industry has indicated it would prefer this to the loss in the federal tax exemption.

The veteran Cape Girardeau Democrat pointed out that the two versions would bring in about the same amount of revenue.

The income tax measure as it stands would hike the corporate rate from two to four per cent and the individual taxes from four to six per cent.

In Wednesday's vote, the so-called "Young Turks" led by President Pro-Tem Earl Blackwell favored the federal tax-exemption.

Sen. Spradling predicted that the vote on the total income tax package next week would break along generally the same lines, with the Blackwell forces opposing the bill and Sen. Spradling and others supporting it.

He pointed out that the "Young Turks" are opposed to any increase in individual income taxes.

Sen. Spradling's support of any corporate income tax increase represents a compromise from his earlier position.

"We've got to have the money," he explained.

The $73 million provided for by the income tax hike plus the $31,000,00 to $34,000,000 which would be raised by a larger cigaret tax would, Sen. Spradling said, be enough to finance a proposed public school foundation program and leave $30,000,000 for capital improvements in the state.

Another revenue measure which passed the House last week would let cities levy a one-cent sales tax.

"I think that bill is going to be pretty popular in the Senate," Sen. Spradling said.

The Cape Girardeau legislator, noting that General Assembly members are quite upset over the burning of Lincoln University Student Union, reported that the building was fully insured because it had been financed by bonds.

Hearings have begun in the House of a Senate-passed bill sponsored by Sen. Spradling that would allow cities to raise the amount they can levy each year for street maintenance from $1 to $2. The measure has the endorsement of the Missouri Municipal League, he said.

Many U.S. Cities 'Flirt With Death:-Re Bad Water

WASHINGTON -- The Federal Government's big promises to help finance municipal waste treatment facilities did a lot to take the heat off the Federal establishment, but little to get the crud out of the Nation's waters, according to Tom Kimball, head of the National-Wildlife Federation.

Under the Water Quality Act of 1965 and the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966, the Federal Government goaded states to establish sorely needed water quality standards and promised massive financial assistance to help construct the necessary municipal sewage treatment plants.

When it came time to put the taxpayer's money where the Federal establishment's mouth was, however, actual appropriations fell far short of promised amounts. The states were left holding a bag full of pollution clean-up laws and no money to put them into effect.

In fiscal year 1968, for instance, Congress appropriated only $203 million from the $450 million authorization. In fiscal 1969, $214 million was appropriated from a $700 million authorization. The Nixon Administration followed up with a request for a mere $214 million from the $1 billion authorized for fiscal year 1970.

The Administration's request for fiscal 1970 is less than the cost of one makework dam and reservoir development; or less than we spend annually for research and development of chemical and bacteriological warfare, Kimball said. Even if the Congress does appropriate the full $214 million, that's not enough to even make a dent in the rapidly growing problem of inadequate sewage treatment facilities.

According to the Public Health Service, fully one-fourth of the people in the United States are drinking water that doesn't meet Health Service standards because of increasingly polluted water supplies. Health officials say this is literally "... flirting with disaster ..."

In scattered localities throughout the country, from Oregon to New Jersey, water pollution is so bad, and waste treatment plants so inadequate, new home construction and industrial expansion are at a standstill.

"Examples of pollution-caused economic depression, health hazards and wildlife destruction are scattered across the United States like poison confetti," Kimball said. "With the Federal Government's current lip service to helping finance municipal waste treatment plants, it's becoming a question of how long we can escape inundation by our own filth."

Muny Opera To Open June 22

ST. LOUIS, MO - The 1969 Municipal Opera season - the fifty-first in the outdoor theatre's history of colorful and exciting summertime musical entertainment - will open June 2 and will feature ten sensational productions, featuring glittering casts, chosen from the brightest stars of television, Hollywood and Broadway.

Municipal Opera's 1969 season will be sparkled with two world stage premieres, two Forest Park "firsts" and a one week engagement of the spectacular "Royal Ballet of London." The world stage premieres are:

The world stage premiere of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "State Fair" starring America's beloved husband-wife team, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson. "State Fair" is a classic musical of rural mid-America and tells in affectionate detail the reactions of a family to unaccustomed gaiety and glamor away from the uneventful routine of the farm at the annual State Fair in Des Moines. Among the memorable song-hits are "That's For Me", "It Might As Well Be Spring", "It's A Grand Night For Singing" and three new songs

"Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs" will star Patricia Wise in the title role of the enchanting Disney classic which features such musical gems as "Whistle While You Work", "Heigh Ho", "Some Day My Prince Will Come" and many others.

Municipal Opera premieres are:

The current Broadway sensation, "Mame", starring Jane Morgan who is now enchanting New York audiences along with other members of the New York company including Ed Herlihy and Jerry Lanning, which tells of an eccentric, impulsive aunt who inherits an urchin newphew and "Mames" him for life. The hit-show features such great musical-hits as "It's Today", "If He Walked Into My Life" and the robust title song.

Frank Loesser's spectacular musical, "The Most Happy Fella", starring Giorgio Tozzi, that tells of an aging Italian wine grower who wins a mail-order bride under the guise of his handsome young foreman, is told through such stirring songs as "My Heart Is So Full of You", "Big D", "Standing On The Corner" and many more.

Municipal Opera's seven-night engagement of London's world-famous "Royal Ballet" from the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, this year celebrates the 20th anniversary of its first presentation in this country by S. Hurok. The Forest Park schedule will include "Romeo and Juliet," brought back by popular request, on Monday, an all-new production of "The Sleeping Beauty" on Tuesday and Wednesday, the premieres of "La Bayadere", "Pelleas and Melisande" and Act III of "Raymonda" on Thursday and Friday, a revival of "Coppelia" on Saturday and "Giselle", brought back by popular request on Sunday.

Favorites from previous seasons in the repertory include:

Robert Horton and Gretchen Wyler in the musical-hit of Oriental Majesty, "Kismet", which includes an endless variety of memorable song-hits as "Stranger In Paradise", "Baubles, Bangles and Beads" and "This Is My Beloved".

Lerner & Loewe's delightful and romantic "Camelot", featuring Sally Ann Howes and John Cullum.

"Damn Yankees", the robust and rollicking musical comedy starring Ray Walston with a score including such hits as "Whatever Lola Wants", "You Gotta Have Heart" and many others.

The fabulous musical fable of Broadway, "Guys and Dolls", will star Barbara McNair, Jean Kean and Soupy Sales and such ageless songs as "Bushel and a Peck", "Luck Be A Lady", "Take Back The Mink" and the rousing title song.

The dates for Municipal Opera's 1969 repertory are: June 2-15 (14 nights), "State Fair"; June 16-22, "Kismet"; June 23-29, "Camelot"; June 30-July 6, "The Most Happy Fella"; July 7-20 (14 nights), "Mame"; July 21-27, "The Royal Ballet of London"; July 28 - August 3, "Damn Yankees"; August 4-10, "Guys and Dolls"; August 11-17, "South Pacific" and August 18-31 (14 nights), "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs".

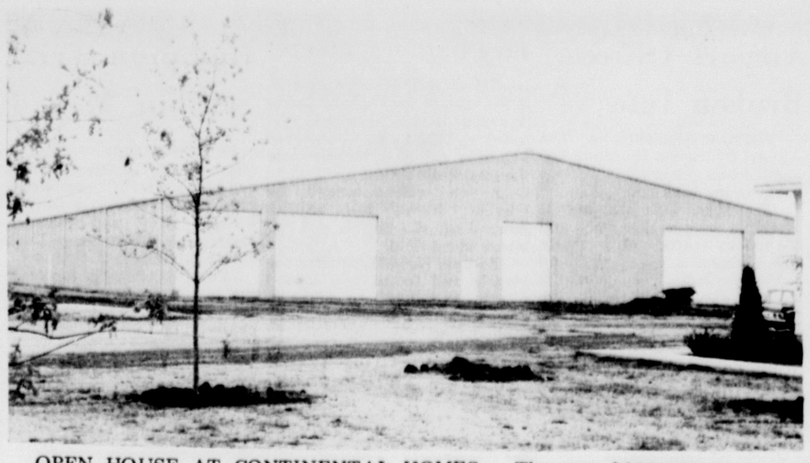
Hearnes Receives Silver Mule Award

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) Gov. and Mrs. Warren E. Hearnes flew to New York Monday where Hearnes received the Silver Mule Award of the Missouri Society of New York.

Hal K. Negbaur, president of the society, said it was awarded to "a person who had led an exemplary life and career and who had made both Missouri and the United States proud of him."

The Missouri society was formed nine years ago by prominent former Missourians now living in New York.

The Eleanor, the Beaver and the Dartmouth were the three ships which lost their cargo of tea at the Boston Tea Party.



OPEN HOUSE AT CONTINENTAL HOMES -- The new $600,000 Continental Homes Inc. plant, where sectionalized homes will be built, along with small commercial buildings, will hold "Open House," Thursday, beginning at 2 p.m., with Lieut. - Gov. Jury Spares Krist's Life On Kidnaping Conviction

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — A praying jury has convicted Gary Steven Krist of the $500,000 ransom kidnaping of coed Barbara Jane Mackle, but spared his life because of elaborate steps taken to keep the victim alive in a buried box.

Krist, 24, who had predicted the death penalty which the state asked, was given a life sentence Monday night on the jury's recommendation for mercy. Normally a life term may be reviewed for parole in seven years in Georgia.

Jury foreman H. I. Rainwater said deliberations began with a prayer. He disclosed in an interview that the 12 men were divided on whether to impose the death penalty, but finally voted for mercy because "of the effort and precaution he took to see that she (the victim) wasn't killed."

"He did go to an awful lot of trouble to see that she would be all right," Rainwater said.

Miss Mackle, a 20-year-old Emory University junior, was buried in an 8-by-2-by-2-foot box for 83 hours after her abduction from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17. The box contained food and tranquilizer-loaded drinking water. It also had a battery-run ventilation system, water pump and small light that burned out after a short time, leaving the girl in total darkness.

After the victim's father, land developer Robert F. Mackle of Coral Gables, Fla., paid the ransom, the kidnaper telephoned the FBI with directions to the remote burial spot northeast of Decatur.

Dist. Atty. Richard Bell had presented a massive—and unrefuted-array of evidence, eyewitnesses and fingerprints linking Krist to the crime.

"I'm disappointed," Bell said of the verdict.

Krist's two court-appointed lawyers, Mobley Childs and James R. Venable, offered no defense testimony, choosing instead to plead for mercy in final arguments. By foregoing testimony, they were entitled to open and close the final arguments.

Judge H. O. Hubert Jr. asked if the defendant wanted to say anything before sentence was passed. Krist whispered to Venable.

"The defendant wants to thank the jury, but that would be improper," Venable said, smiling.

The verdict came at 9:52 p.m. after three hours and 46 minutes of deliberation on the trial's seventh day.

Teachers Plan Mass March On Legislature

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Suburban Teachers Association hopes to send at least 1,000 parents and teachers to Jefferson City today to urge passage of legislation aiding public schools.

A spokesman said the "day of concern" demonstration will be in support of legislation providing 50-50 state support of schools, removing the twothirds requirement for passage of school tax levies, giving tax relief to the elderly and those on fixed incomes and in equalization tax for suburban schools.

The association said the delegates—one teacher and two parents from each of the 325 school buildings in St. Louis and St. Charles counties were to gather at six shopping centers this morning.

The plan is for the entire group to assemble on the east Capitol grounds at 10 a.m.

Interplanet Travel Next Space Goal

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — After the moon, the whole solar system.

That, says the director of America's space program, is the long-range goal.

And Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, believes the conquest of earth's fellow planets will prove to be "reasonably straightforward."

'While the moon has been the focus of our efforts," Paine told a news conference Monday, "the true goal is far more than being the first to land men on the moon, as though it were a celestial Mt. Everest to be climbed.

"The real goal is to develop and demonstrate the capability for interplanetary travel."

Paine said the space program was "providing the most exciting possible answer to the age old question of whether life as we know it on earth can exist on the moon and the planets," and he declared:

"The answer is yes. Men working together with modern science and technology can extend the domain of terrestial life throughout the solar system."

Asked when he believes interplanetary travel will be possible —and which would be the first planets explored—Paine replied:

"It's too early to really make much of a speculation on that at the present time. There are many, many different problems that would have to be faced before we'd be ready to make a commitment—make an estimate as to the timing.

"I think, however, that the demonstration of the capability to reach the moon, to land men on the moon, have them walk on the surface and do useful work, are certainly the clear first steps—after which the other steps, I think, will be reasonably straightforward."

The next step is Apollo 11. Its towering rocket already sits on a pad at Cape Kennedy.

President scheduling calls for it to blast off July 16, carrying astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

As in the Apollo 10 shoot, the spaceship will carry a little lunar landing craft. Armstrong and Aldrin will make the landing while Collins mans the command spaceship, which will remain in moon orbit.

Burlison Not Satisfied With Draft Revisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressman Bill E. Burlison of Missouri's 10th district said in his May newsletter to constituents he is not fully satisfied with some features of President Nixon's proposed revision of draft procedures.

Burlison said selection under Nixon's plan would not be as random as it would appear.

"My main complaint (about military induction procedures) has been the special treatment accorded those who are able and willing to attend college. The president's proposal retains this discriminatory policy of college deferment," Burlison said.

Burlison said college deferments give an advantage to those financially able to go to school.

"This system encourages students to go to college who do not have the intellectual capacity nor the motivation and who would not otherwise attend. Those who have had an opportunity to observe these students readily see the unfortunate waste of time and resources of both the families and schools involved," Burlison said.

Muny Opera To Open June 22

ST. LOUIS, MO - The 1969 Municipal Opera season - the fifty-first in the outdoor theatre's history of colorful and exciting summertime musical entertainment - will open June 2 and will feature ten sensational productions, featuring glittering casts, chosen from the brightest stars of television, Hollywood and Broadway.

Municipal Opera's 1969 season will be sparkled with two world stage premieres, two Forest Park "firsts" and a one week engagement of the spectacular "Royal Ballet of London." The world stage premieres are:

The world stage premiere of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "State Fair" starring America's beloved husband-wife team, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson. "State Fair" is a classic musical of rural mid-America and tells in affectionate detail the reactions of a family to unaccustomed gaiety and glamor away from the uneventful routine of the farm at the annual State Fair in Des Moines. Among the memorable song-hits are "That's For Me", "It Might As Well Be Spring", "It's A Grand Night For Singing" and three new songs

"Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs" will star Patricia Wise in the title role of the enchanting Disney classic which features such musical gems as "Whistle While You Work", "Heigh Ho", "Some Day My Prince Will Come" and many others.

Municipal Opera premieres are:

The current Broadway sensation, "Mame", starring Jane Morgan who is now enchanting New York audiences along with other members of the New York company including Ed Herlihy and Jerry Lanning, which tells of an eccentric, impulsive aunt who inherits an urchin newphew and "Mames" him for life. The hit-show features such great musical-hits as "It's Today", "If He Walked Into My Life" and the robust title song.

Frank Loesser's spectacular musical, "The Most Happy Fella", starring Giorgio Tozzi, that tells of an aging Italian wine grower who wins a mail-order bride under the guise of his handsome young foreman, is told through such stirring songs as "My Heart Is So Full of You", "Big D", "Standing On The Corner" and many more.

Municipal Opera's seven-night engagement of London's world-famous "Royal Ballet" from the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, this year celebrates the 20th anniversary of its first presentation in this country by S. Hurok. The Forest Park schedule will include "Romeo and Juliet," brought back by popular request, on Monday, an all-new production of "The Sleeping Beauty" on Tuesday and Wednesday, the premieres of "La Bayadere", "Pelleas and Melisande" and Act III of "Raymonda" on Thursday and Friday, a revival of "Coppelia" on Saturday and "Giselle", brought back by popular request on Sunday.

Favorites from previous seasons in the repertory include:

Robert Horton and Gretchen Wyler in the musical-hit of Oriental Majesty, "Kismet", which includes an endless variety of memorable song-hits as "Stranger In Paradise", "Baubles, Bangles and Beads" and "This Is My Beloved".

Lerner & Loewe's delightful and romantic "Camelot", featuring Sally Ann Howes and John Cullum.

"Damn Yankees", the robust and rollicking musical comedy starring Ray Walston with a score including such hits as "Whatever Lola Wants", "You Gotta Have Heart" and many others.

The fabulous musical fable of Broadway, "Guys and Dolls", will star Barbara McNair, Jean Kean and Soupy Sales and such ageless songs as "Bushel and a Peck", "Luck Be A Lady", "Take Back The Mink" and the rousing title song.

'Distorted' News Brings Report From Senator J. F. Patterson

Editor's Note — The following is an article written by State Senator J. F. Patterson regarding the Division of Mental Diseases.

By J. F. PATTERSON
STATE SENATOR

Because of distorted news releases and incorrect interpretations on the part of the administration and members of the Division of of Mental Diseases, it is necessary that the correct information be given so that the citizens of Missouri will be correctly informed. The total appropriations recommended by the Missouri Senate Appropriations Committee and subsequently adopted by the Missouri Seante is in excess of $2.7 million more than appropriated for the current year. For the year 1968-69 over 600 new positions were granted the Division of Mental Diseases and appropriations made therefore. The request this year was for 322 additional employees. These were not all allowed in the recommendations of the Senate. In the request of this year the Division of Mental Diseases requested a separate item of $631,000 for the Alcoholism Treatment Program which was to provide and replacements and increased operations. In addition a new program was requested for the Drug Abuse Program and the Governor recommended $185,000 for this program.

When evaluations were made of the various State Hospital requests, it was learned that the amount requested for the various hospitals for the Alcoholism Program ran as high as $236,000 just for one hospital. The total amount requested therefor for this one program was not $631,000 but totaled in excess of $1 million. Since the amounts recommended by the House for the operations account for each of the hospitals contained certain funds for the Alcholism Programs, the amount for the program recommended by the Senate was reduced to $145,000 to cover both the Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Programs. In addition to the above amounts appropriated for the Alcoholism Program there is a total request of $72,096 for the employees of this Program in the administration office in Jefferson City. The Senate Committee feels that since we are having annual sessions and in the hopes that addtitional revenue will be found, any deficiency in in this Program could be taken care of in the emergency appropriations at the Special Session in January.

One of the most inaccurate releases made by anyone was made by the Mental Helath Commission in stating that seven of the eight Diagnostic Centers in the state would of necessity be closed because of the Senate Appropriations. It was so inaccurate that they did not acknowledge that we have nine Diagnostic Centers. It was so inaccurate that they did not acknowledge that all nine had been placed in the same section for appropriation purposes and the total amount recommended by the House was the same in personnel services and the amount for additions, repairs and replacements and operations were reduced by ten percent, feeling that more economical and efficient services could be rendered in the purchasing of supplies and materials from the General Office. Instead of closing one of the Diagnostic Centers, all nine will be able to operate under a total appropriation of $4,178,278.

We regret that an error was made in totalling the amount to the Dianostic Centers which was corrected immediately upon finding the error and we regret that the Commission and the Director of this agency continued to inform the public of this state about the intent of the Senate Appropriations Committee and particularly the Chairman of the Committee.

We resent the fact that it is necessary almost every year to correctly inform the people and attempt to clear up the inaccurate reporting done on the Division of Mental Diseases. Thus, we again call attention to the fact that the appropriations for the 1969-70 fiscal period is in excess of $2.7 million above that of the current year.

SYMINGTON, EAGLETON RELEASE REPORT ON HEW ALLOCATIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C. - The United States Office of Education is allocating $19,115,338 to the Missouri State Department of Education for use by local educational agencies under Federal legislation to advance education of disadvantaged children, Senators Stuart Symington (D-Mo), and Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo) were informed.

As a result of this allocation, Scott County will receive approximately $276855.00 for the 1969-1970 school year.

The program, conducted on the local level, is designed to help educationally disadvantaged children from families having incomes of less than $2,000 per year, children under public care in foster homes, and children in institutions for the neglected or delinquent.

Exact amounts to be received by the counties will be determined by the State Department of Education.

Fiscal Year 1970 allocations are announced in advance to help participating local educational agencies plan programs and staffing, an Office of Education spokesman said.

WEATHERBEATEN SKIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Aging of humans is under study by a team of scientists at Downey Veterans Administration Hospital in an effort to determine what is involved in the process.

Hyman Weinstein, chief of the research in aging laboratory, said more than 25 scientists from several Midwestern universities are involved in the project.

Their laboratories are seeking scientific information about the complex substances that form human connective tissues.

Scientists believe the "weathering" by constant exposure to sun and wind and resulting permanent changes in the skin may represent chemical alterations related to the aging process.

"The skin's constant exposure to the wind and sun may cause it to 'age' more quickly than skin on protected parts of the body," Dr. Weinstein said.

The seismometer to be placed on the moon by the first U.S. astronauts there will be equipped with a tiny tuning-fork master timer programmed to operate for up to one year, Bulova Watch Co. engineers report. The tuning fork of the timer vibrates 360 times a second, or 31,104,000 times each 24 hours.

'Distorted' News Brings Report From Senator J. F. Patterson

Editor's Note — The following is an article written by State Senator J. F. Patterson regarding the Division of Mental Diseases.

By J. F. PATTERSON
STATE SENATOR

Because of distorted news releases and incorrect interpretations on the part of the administration and members of the Division of of Mental Diseases, it is necessary that the correct information be given so that the citizens of Missouri will be correctly informed. The total appropriations recommended by the Missouri Senate Appropriations Committee and subsequently adopted by the Missouri Seante is in excess of $2.7 million more than appropriated for the current year. For the year 1968-69 over 600 new positions were granted the Division of Mental Diseases and appropriations made therefore. The request this year was for 322 additional employees. These were not all allowed in the recommendations of the Senate. In the request of this year the Division of Mental Diseases requested a separate item of $631,000 for the Alcoholism Treatment Program which was to provide and replacements and increased operations. In addition a new program was requested for the Drug Abuse Program and the Governor recommended $185,000 for this program.

When evaluations were made of the various State Hospital requests, it was learned that the amount requested for the various hospitals for the Alcoholism Program ran as high as $236,000 just for one hospital. The total amount requested therefor for this one program was not $631,000 but totaled in excess of $1 million. Since the amounts recommended by the House for the operations account for each of the hospitals contained certain funds for the Alcholism Programs, the amount for the program recommended by the Senate was reduced to $145,000 to cover both the Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Programs. In addition to the above amounts appropriated for the Alcoholism Program there is a total request of $72,096 for the employees of this Program in the administration office in Jefferson City. The Senate Committee feels that since we are having annual sessions and in the hopes that addtitional revenue will be found, any deficiency in in this Program could be taken care of in the emergency appropriations at the Special Session in January.

One of the most inaccurate releases made by anyone was made by the Mental Helath Commission in stating that seven of the eight Diagnostic Centers in the state would of necessity be closed because of the Senate Appropriations. It was so inaccurate that they did not acknowledge that we have nine Diagnostic Centers. It was so inaccurate that they did not acknowledge that all nine had been placed in the same section for appropriation purposes and the total amount recommended by the House was the same in personnel services and the amount for additions, repairs and replacements and operations were reduced by ten percent, feeling that more economical and efficient services could be rendered in the purchasing of supplies and materials from the General Office. Instead of closing one of the Diagnostic Centers, all nine will be able to operate under a total appropriation of $4,178,278.

We regret that an error was made in totalling the amount to the Dianostic Centers which was corrected immediately upon finding the error and we regret that the Commission and the Director of this agency continued to inform the public of this state about the intent of the Senate Appropriations Committee and particularly the Chairman of the Committee.

We resent the fact that it is necessary almost every year to correctly inform the people and attempt to clear up the inaccurate reporting done on the Division of Mental Diseases. Thus, we again call attention to the fact that the appropriations for the 1969-70 fiscal period is in excess of $2.7 million above that of the current year.

GOSPEL MEETING
MAY 26 THRU JUNE 1ST
8 P.M.
EAST SIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST
VANDUSER
EVANGELIST
ROBERT F. TURNER

"Gee, I enjoyed that—I can hardly wait to see it on television."

A DEMOCRATIC MAYOR was a certainty for Los Angeles, where mayoral elections are nonpartisan and the primary is tantamount to a general election. Run-off candidates Sam Yorty, left, and Thomas Bradley are both registered Democrats.

ON CAMERA AGAIN, Rita Hayworth rehearses a seductive scene for an upcoming film in which she entices a young author to her home for an evening of fun and games. The 50-year-old actress, once considered Hollywood's love goddess, started her screen career in 1935.

FIBERWORKS—and that's not a typographical error. Although the fiber optics industry is only 10 years old, these fiber bundles already have found useful, nondecorative jobs in such diverse fields as automobiles, computers, home appliances, medical and dental instruments and weapons systems. Katherine Wacker of Holland, Mass., adds to the beauty of a display of light-piping fibers developed by the Bendix Corp.

The most rewarding place to plant flowers is by the door for then you see them each time you go through. Dooryard gardens are popular with apartment dwellers; becoming more so with home owners. Low-growing annual flowers are suitable to use.

Furnishing bloom for a long season are petunias, ageratum, geraniums (now you grow them from seeds), dwarf marigolds or zinnias, pinks, sweet alyssum. In shade try begonias, coleus or impatiens. Upper garden pictured shows geraniums between yews, the lower one petunias and ageratum planted hit or miss fashion.

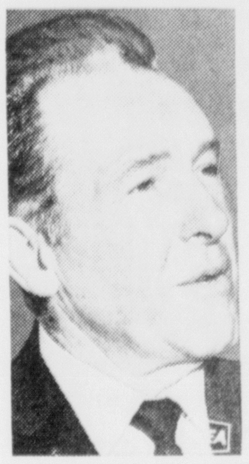
"Gee, I enjoyed that—I can hardly wait to see it on television."

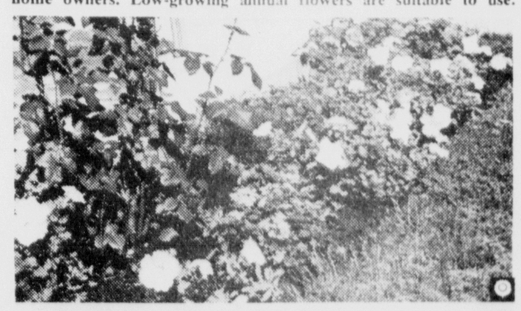


A DEMOCRATIC MAYOR was a certainty for Los Angeles, where mayoral elections are nonpartisan and the primary is tantamount to a general election. Run-off candidates Sam Yorty, left, and Thomas Bradley are both registered Democrats.

ON CAMERA AGAIN, Rita Hayworth rehearses a seductive scene for an upcoming film in which she entices a young author to her home for an evening of fun and games. The 50-year-old actress, once considered Hollywood's love goddess, started her screen career in 1935.

FIBERWORKS—and that's not a typographical error. Although the fiber optics industry is only 10 years old, these fiber bundles already have found useful, nondecorative jobs in such diverse fields as automobiles, computers, home appliances, medical and dental instruments and weapons systems. Katherine Wacker of Holland, Mass., adds to the beauty of a display of light-piping fibers developed by the Bendix Corp.

The most rewarding place to plant flowers is by the door for then you see them each time you go through. Dooryard gardens are popular with apartment dwellers; becoming more so with home owners. Low-growing annual flowers are suitable to use.



Furnishing bloom for a long season are petunias, ageratum, geraniums (now you grow them from seeds), dwarf marigolds or zinnias, pinks, sweet alyssum. In shade try begonias, coleus or impatiens. Upper garden pictured shows geraniums between yews, the lower one petunias and ageratum planted hit or miss fashion.

If You Were the Judge

Reillys Thrown Into Street

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Reilly had had several drinks at the Stray Cat Saloon when he got into an argument with Duffy and Hogan. And, when he started to use some strong words, in the tavernacular of the bar, Duffy and Hogan beat Reilly to the floor. Whereupon, the bouncer quickly appeared and, to Reilly's great relief, pulled both duffy and Hogan off of his back and heaved them out of the drinking emporium.

As fate would have it, however, the brawl in the saloon proved to be only a preliminary. When the bouncer returned, he proceeded to toss poor old Reilly out in the street, too, and he landed right between Duffy and Hogan. Whereupon, the main bout began and ended with Reilly being beaten to a pulp.

Limping into court, Reilly sued the proprietor of the Stray Cat Saloon for his painful injuries.

"Throwing me into he street with Hogan and Duffy waiting for me," Reilly complained in court, "was like throwing me under the wheels of an automobile."

"What went on in the street," was the proprietor's answer, "was none of my business. My only obligation was to maintain peace and order in my saloon for the protection of my customers. In ejecting brawlers, I was only doing my duty."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you require the tavern proprietor to pay battered Reilly for his injuries?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! He held that a tavern owner has to exercise care to protect his patrons; that by throwing Reilly into danger, he failed to protect him.

Based upon a 1957 Kansas City Court of Appeals Decision)

SETBACK FOR SITAR

POONA, India (AP) — Ustad Vilayat Khan, described as one of the best sitar players of all times, believes the modern trend toward a synthesis of Indian classical music and western music would be ruinous for both.

He said the recent release of an LP album by Yehudi Menuhin and Ravi Shankar was "a faulty experiment."

Asked to comment on Beatle George Harrison's interest in the sitar, Vilayat Khan said: "A sitar recital by the Beatle is like a satire on Indian music."

ARMED FORCES

BLYTHEVILLE AIR FORCE BASE, Ark. — Fifteen members of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Worth Texas Division, met with several civilian contractors Tuesday at the Kingsley Hall Service Club to discuss plans and specifications of planned construction work on Blytheville Air Force Base's landing strip and taxiways. The estimated 1.5 million dollar contract will be awarded to the construction firm submitting the lowest bid.

Tuesday's meeting offered contractors, who were sent specifications by the Corps of Engineers, an opportunity to answer any questions they might have regarding the construction work. Invitations to bid were sent to prospective contractors April 21, 1969. The bids will be opened May 21, 1969, in the office of Col. R. S. Kristoferson, Fort Worth District Engineer.

Work scheduled to be done includes construction of additional pavement for the parking apron; construction of an assault landing strip (for light aircraft); installation of Visual Approach Slope Indicator (VASI) runway lighting; and installation of additional taxiway lighting.

Colonel Kristoferson opened the meeting and introduced several of his staff members who explained the proposed construction, using charts to indicate the work sites. The contractors were then transported to the sites to view the areas first-hand. Following lunch at the Officers' Open Mess, they re-convened at the service club for a summation.

The actual construction is expected to begin in late June 1969. Mr. Robert Crockett of the Fort Worth Texas Division of the Corps of Engineers is the chief of construction.

PAUL FLOWER GREEN HOUSE

Look, John, Look! See the lovely trahedron.

Is it an exercise in solid geometry? No, no, John, it is not an exercise in solid geometry.

See how symmetrical it is, how it has four sides and four corners, how beautifully balanced! See how every side is the same size and same shape, so that you can look at it from any direction and it is always the same.

Is it an antitank trap to keep the unfriendly enemy from landing on our friendly shores? No, no, John, it is not an antitank trap to keep the unfriendly enemy from landing on our friendly shores.

Is it the model for an Egyptian pyramid, to become the last resting place for a Pharaoh, or even for the dish Cleopatra, who put the snow job on both Julius Caesar and Marc Antony. No, no, John, it is not the model for a pyramid, the last resting place of a Pharaoh or a Roman's sweet patootie.

It is a fancy hat for an archbishop or the Lord High Executioner of a fraternal lodge? No, no, John, it is not a fancy hat for an archbishop or the LHE of a fraternal lodge.

It is a section of fancy pastry? No, no, John, it is not a section of fancy pastry? Nor is it part of a puzzle, the parts of which you must reassemble into a cosmic whole to establish your intelligence quotient.

I'll tell you what it is, John. It is a familiar product springing from the minds of inventive geniuses in the packaging industry. It is a container for milk, cream, half- and - half or non-dairy product to flavor your papa's and mama's coffee.

Look, look, John, and marvel at its astounding functional design. It is so fixed that no matter how you open it, you always get a squirt of milk, cream, half- and - half or non-dairy product in your eye, over your weskit, or if you're a lady, on your mink neck-piece. A few drops of what doesn't go into your eye, on the weskit, or on the mink, drips into the coffee; the rest, John, leaks onto the tablecloth unless you have a saucer handy.

Isn't this a wonderful world, John, where you can dribble coffee - flavoring stuff out of a waxed paper tetrahedron? Science and progress are amazing, are they not, John?

Look - LOOK OUT, JOHN - you're spilling the contents of your patented tetrahedron into your lap!

TO THE EDITOR:
No one has a greater stake inthe election of our President than the voter, so it is time for the voter to get in on the act to get the best change in the Presidential electoral system. U.S. Senators like to have the opinions of their constituents on important issues. Voters should acquaint themselves with the provisions of H. J. Res. 403, which carries the enormous prestige of the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and proposes one Elector from each Congressional District and two from each state at large. The voter can ask either of the U.S. Senators from his state to introduce into the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Amendments as S. J. Res. identical with H. J. Res. 403, or a better Congressional District Plan if he can prepare one.
Sincerely,
Howard M. Russell.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:
From your dentist ?

The use of prescriptions in dentistry is a fairly recent development. Due to the discovery and application of certain types of drugs, the practice is rapidly expanding. Tranquilizers, because of their apprehension-curbing nature, have proved helpful with patients undergoing major dental work. By relaxing the patient in this way, the dentist can go about his work more efficiently. Analgesics and antibiotics are also proven aids in dental therapy. They speed healing and prevent or fight infection. These new applications of prescription drugs demonstrate the diverse role pharmaceuticals play in our lives. Now, when your dentist prescribes, you receive the same benefits of modern medical research as when your physician prescribes. And when you have regular physical examinations don't neglect to have your teeth checked. Make an appointment with your dentist when you make one with your doctor. As a matter of fact, why not phone for an appointment today?

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to

If You Were the Judge

Reillys Thrown Into Street

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Reilly had had several drinks at the Stray Cat Saloon when he got into an argument with Duffy and Hogan. And, when he started to use some strong words, in the tavernacular of the bar, Duffy and Hogan beat Reilly to the floor. Whereupon, the bouncer quickly appeared and, to Reilly's great relief, pulled both duffy and Hogan off of his back and heaved them out of the drinking emporium.

As fate would have it, however, the brawl in the saloon proved to be only a preliminary. When the bouncer returned, he proceeded to toss poor old Reilly out in the street, too, and he landed right between Duffy and Hogan. Whereupon, the main bout began and ended with Reilly being beaten to a pulp.

Limping into court, Reilly sued the proprietor of the Stray Cat Saloon for his painful injuries.

"Throwing me into he street with Hogan and Duffy waiting for me," Reilly complained in court, "was like throwing me under the wheels of an automobile."

"What went on in the street," was the proprietor's answer, "was none of my business. My only obligation was to maintain peace and order in my saloon for the protection of my customers. In ejecting brawlers, I was only doing my duty."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you require the tavern proprietor to pay battered Reilly for his injuries?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! He held that a tavern owner has to exercise care to protect his patrons; that by throwing Reilly into danger, he failed to protect him.

Based upon a 1957 Kansas City Court of Appeals Decision)

SETBACK FOR SITAR

POONA, India (AP) — Ustad Vilayat Khan, described as one of the best sitar players of all times, believes the modern trend toward a synthesis of Indian classical music and western music would be ruinous for both.

He said the recent release of an LP album by Yehudi Menuhin and Ravi Shankar was "a faulty experiment."

Asked to comment on Beatle George Harrison's interest in the sitar, Vilayat Khan said: "A sitar recital by the Beatle is like a satire on Indian music."

ARMED FORCES

BLYTHEVILLE AIR FORCE BASE, Ark. -- Fifteen members of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Worth Texas Division, met with several civilian contractors Tuesday at the Kingsley Hall Service Club to discuss plans and specifications of planned construction work on Blytheville Air Force Base's landing strip and taxiways. The estimated 1.5 million dollar contract will be awarded to the construction firm submitting the lowest bid.

Tuesday's meeting offered contractors, who were sent specifications by the Corps of Engineers, an opportunity to answer any questions they might have regarding the construction work. Invitations to bid were sent to prospective contractors April 21, 1969. The bids will be opened May 21, 1969, in the office of Col. R. S. Kristoferson, Fort Worth District Engineer.

Work scheduled to be done includes construction of additional pavement for the parking apron; construction of an assault landing strip (for light aircraft); installation of Visual Approach Slope Indicator (VASI) runway lighting; and installation of additional taxiway lighting.

Colonel Kristoferson opened the meeting and introduced several of his staff members who explained the proposed construction, using charts to indicate the work sites. The contractors were then transported to the sites to view the areas first-hand. Following lunch at the Officers' Open Mess, they re-convened at the service club for a summation.

The actual construction is expected to begin in late June 1969. Mr. Robert Crockett of the Fort Worth Texas Division of the Corps of Engineers is the chief of construction.

PAUL FLOWER GREEN HOUSE

Look, John, Look! See the lovely trahedron.

Is it an exercise in solid geometry? No, no, John, it is not an exercise in solid geometry.

See how symmetrical it is, how it has four sides and four corners, how beautifully balanced! See how every side is the same size and same shape, so that you can look at it from any direction and it is always the same.

Is it an antitank trap to keep the unfriendly enemy from landing on our friendly shores? No, no, John, it is not an antitank trap to keep the unfriendly enemy from landing on our friendly shores.

Is it the model for an Egyptian pyramid, to become the last resting place for a Pharaoh, or even for the dish Cleopatra, who put the snow job on both Julius Caesar and Marc Antony. No, no, John, it is not the model for a pyramid, the last resting place of a Pharaoh or a Roman's sweet patootie.

It is a fancy hat for an archbishop or the Lord High Executioner of a fraternal lodge? No, no, John, it is not a fancy hat for an archbishop or the LHE of a fraternal lodge.

It is a section of fancy pastry? No, no, John, it is not a section of fancy pastry? Nor is it part of a puzzle, the parts of which you must reassemble into a cosmic whole to establish your intelligence quotient.

I'll tell you what it is, John. It is a familiar product springing from the minds of inventive geniuses in the packaging industry. It is a container for milk, cream, half- and - half or non-dairy product to flavor your papa's and mama's coffee.

Look, look, John, and marvel at its astounding functional design. It is so fixed that no matter how you open it, you always get a squirt of milk, cream, half- and - half or non-dairy product in your eye, over your weskit, or if you're a lady, on your mink neck-piece. A few drops of what doesn't go into your eye, on the weskit, or on the mink, drips into the coffee; the rest, John, leaks onto the tablecloth unless you have a saucer handy.

Isn't this a wonderful world, John, where you can dribble coffee - flavoring stuff out of a waxed paper tetrahedron? Science and progress are amazing, are they not, John?

Look - LOOK OUT, JOHN - you're spilling the contents of your patented tetrahedron into your lap!

From your dentist ?
The use of prescriptions in dentistry is a fairly recent development. Due to the discovery and application of certain types of drugs, the practice is rapidly expanding. Tranquilizers, because of their apprehension-curbing nature, have proved helpful with patients undergoing major dental work. By relaxing the patient in this way, the dentist can go about his work more efficiently. Analgesics and antibiotics are also proven aids in dental therapy. They speed healing and prevent or fight infection. These new applications of prescription drugs demonstrate the diverse role pharmaceuticals play in our lives. Now, when your dentist prescribes, you receive the same benefits of modern medical research as when your physician prescribes. And when you have regular physical examinations don't neglect to have your teeth checked. Make an appointment with your dentist when you make one with your doctor. As a matter of fact, why not phone for an appointment today?
For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to
